WEDNESDAY, JULY 7, 1909.

NOTICES TO MARINERS.

THE following Notices are published for general information.

T. BUTLER,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

CALCUTTA: 3rd July 1909.

AUSTRALIA AND TASMANIA.

Caution when approaching Australian ports.

No. 263 (1st publication).—The President of the Marine Board, Port Adelaide, has given Notice (No. 11 of 1909), that in connection with periodical exercises or manœuvres, or in the event of relations becoming strained between Great Britain and any naval power, an Examination Service may come into force at the ports or localities mentioned at the end of this notice.

Masters are warned that before attempting to enter any of these ports they must, in their own interests, strictly obey all instructions given to them by the vessels which will be charged with the duty of examining ships desiring to enter the ports, and allotting positions in which the ships shall anchor. In case of fog they should on no account attempt to enter before receiving permission from the Examination Officer.

The institution of an Examination Service at any port will never be publicly advertised, but at all times when the relations of Great Britain with foreign powers are known to be in a state of tension, especial care should be taken in approaching the ports, by day or by night, to keep a sharp lookout for the Examination Steamer, and to be ready to "bring to" at once when hailed by her or warned by the firing of a gun.

If the entrance to a port is closed, three Red Vertical Lights by night or three Red Balls by day will be exhibited in some conspicuous position in or near to its approach, and as far as possible notice of this fact will be given by lookout vessels in the offing.

If the Examination Service is in force, the Examination Steamer will be distinguished by night—

(a) When the port is closed, by three Red Vertical Lights;

(b) When the port is open, by three White Vertical Lights.

The Pilots attached to the ports will be acquainted with the regulations to be followed.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the hermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet bove the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the urveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in he Meteorological Office and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. The rainfall reported on any day is for 4 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

o, overcast; d, drizzling rain; p, passing temporary showers.

2. We have now the honour to submit this, our Report, with the Bill as amended by us annexed hereto. The amendments which we have made in the Bill are, as far as possible, printed in antique type, and all amendments of any importance are explained in the following paragraphs.

Clause 2.

3. We have altered the definition of "Calcutta district", by—

(1) declaring what area is meant to be indicated by the expression "the Suburbs of Calcutta,"

(2) substituting "the Municipalities of Howrah and Bally" for "the towns of Howrah and Bally,"

(3) empowering the Local Government to withdraw the whole or any part of the Suburbs of Calcutta and the Municipalities of Howrah and Bally from the "Calcutta district," and

(4) empowering the Local Government to declare any other areas, in the vicinity of Calcutta or its suburbs or the Municipality of Howrah or Bally, to be included in the "Calcutta district."

The whole object of the definition of the "Calcutta district" is to fix the area of the authority of the officer who is at present called the "Superintendent of Excise-revenue, Calcutta," and it is necessary that that area should be precisely defined, and it may become necessary at any time either to decrease or to extend it.

4. We have inserted a sentence in sub-clause (14) of clause 2 to make it clear that the tapping of tari-producing trees and the drawing of tari from trees are included in the term "manufacture."

Clause 5.

5. We have considered the objections which have been offered to leaving in the hands of the Board of Revenue the definition of the limits of retail sale of excisable articles, and we are of opinion that the varying requirements of different parts of the Province are a sufficient reason for not prescribing limits in the Bill itself.

Clause 8 (2).

6. We have altered sub-clauses (aa), (e) and (f) so as to make it clear that the powers and duties referred to are powers and duties under the Bill or under rules made under the Bill.

7. We have amended sub-clause (e) so as to authorize the delegation of powers of the Local Government under the Bill to the Commissioner of a Division; and have added words to prevent the delegation to any authority of any of the powers conferred upon the Local Government for the making of rules.

8. We have amended sub-clause (g) so as to authorize the Commissioner of a Division to delegate any of the powers which may have been delegated to him.

9. We have also inserted words in sub-clause (g) expressly to require that the persons or classes of persons to whom the Board, the Commissioner of a Division, the Excise Commissioner or the Collector is to be permitted to delegate functions shall be specified in the notification of the Local Government which permits such delegation.

Clause 9.

10. We have amended sub-clause (1) so as to declare that the Collector shall, in such matters arising under the Bill as the Local Government may direct, be subject to the control of the Commissioner of the Division, whose intervention in the working of the Excise law is recognized by sub-clauses (e) and (g) of clause 8 and by clauses 38 and 39 of the Bill.

11. We have altered sub-clause (2) so as to leave the regulation of appeals entirely to rules made under clause 79.

12. We have added a sub-clause, (3), to authorize the Board of Revenue to revise any order passed by a Collector, the Excise Commissioner or the Commissioner of a Division.

Clause 14.

13. We have altered sub-clause (b), and inserted a new sub clause, (bb), so as to require a license for the collection of those portions only of the hemp plant from which an intoxicating drug can be manufactured or produced. There is no necessity for requiring a license to collect dried sticks or twigs, which are suitable only for fuel.

14. We have struck out the references, in clause 14 of the Bill as introduced in Council, to the construction of distilleries and breweries and the grant of licenses by the Excise Commissioner. We think that the establishment of distilleries and breweries should be regulated by the Excise Commissioner under clause 15, and that it should ordinarily be left to the Collector to issue licenses.

15. We have struck out the proviso to clause 14 of the Bill as introduced in Council, because it is no longer necessary that the Superintendent of Excise-revenue, Calcutta, should have authority outside the Calcutta district.

16. We have added to clause 14 a proviso to exempt persons in possession of trees from liability to take out a license for drawing tari for the manufacture of gur or molasses, or for their own domestic consumption. This exemption will apply generally in areas not notified under clause 14A, sub-clause (1), and even in areas so notified power is taken by sub-clause (3) of clause 14A to allow such exemptions as may be thought proper.

Clause 14A.

17. This clause reproduces, without material change, clauses 29 and 32 of the Bill as introduced in Council. Clause 30 of that Bill has been struck out, because its object can be attained by the exclusion of areas from notifications issued under clause 14A (1). Clauses 31 and 33 of the same Bill are reproduced as sub-clause (aa) of clause 19, sub-clause (1a) of clause 26, and sub-clause (e) of clause 27 in the Bill as now amended. Consequently Chapter VI of the Bill as introduced in Council no longer forms a separate Chapter.

Clause 15.

18. We have made the following amendments in this clause—

(1) the Excise Commissioner is authorized to establish and discontinue breweries, and not distilleries only;

(2) he is empowered to authorize, instead of to license, the establishment of distilleries, breweries and warehouses;

(3) his power to license the working of distilleries and breweries is withdrawn, this matter being left to the Collector by clause 14; and

(4) a sub-clause has been added to prohibit the establishment of any distillery or brewery, or any warehouse for the keeping of excisable articles, except by or under the authority of the Excise Commissioner.

Clause 15A.

19. This clause is new. It supplies an omission in the Bill as introduced in Council, by declaring that excisable articles shall not be deposited or kept in warehouses or other places of storage without a license.

Clause 17.

20. Sub-clause (g) excepts tari for domestic consumption from the general declaration that excisable articles must be obtained from licensed vendors only. We have made an addition to the sub-clause to declare that the exception shall hold good, as under existing rule, only up to a limit of four seers and only when the tari is in the possession of the person possessing the tree from which it was drawn.

Clause 19.

21. We have inserted the words "and no portion of the hemp plant from which an intoxicating drug can be manufactured or produced," because the entire hemp plant does not fall within the definition of "excisable article" in clause 2 (5) of the Bill.

22. Proviso (aa) reproduces clause 31 of the Bill as introduced in Council, but is not confined, as the latter clause was, to areas notified under clause 14A (1) [= clause 29 (1) of the Bill as introduced in Council].

Clause 21.

23. We have considered the objections offered to the comprehensive character of this clause, and a majority of us consider that its wide provisions are justified and required in order to enable the Government to deal with the varying conditions of different parts of the Province.

Clause 22.

24. We have altered this clause so as to declare that an exclusive privilege granted under clause 21 shall not be let or assigned unless the Local Government has expressly given authority to do so. We have also inserted a sub-clause, (2), to declare that a letting or assignment may be made only to a person approved by the Collector or the Excise Commissioner.

Clause 23.

25. We have transferred from the Local Government to the Excise Commissioner the power to prescribe the measures, weights and instruments to be kept by licensed manufacturers and vendors.

Clause 24.

26. Sub-clause (1) restricts the employment of children in licensed vendors' premises. The sub-clause, as introduced in Council, extended to all premises in which any excisable article is sold and consumed. We have altered it so as to confine its application to premises in which foreign liquor or country spirit is sold and consumed, because we do not consider that it should apply in the case of country fermented liquor or in the case of intoxicating drugs. Ganja and other drugs are often sold in grocery establishments, where there is no objection to the employment of children.

27. We have considered whether the limit of age for employment, fixed in the Bill, namely, fourteen years, should be raised; and the majority of us are in favour of leaving it unaltered.

28. We have altered the words "in any public room of such premises in which any excisable article is consumed" to "in any part of such premises in which such liquor or spirit is consumed by the public", because liquor may be consumed in a court-yard forming part of the premises.

29. Sub-clause (1a) restricts the employment of women in the premises of vendors licensed to sell foreign liquor. We have altered the reference to public rooms in this sub-clause also, because liquor may be consumed by the public in private rooms.

30. We have added a sub-clause, (1b), empowering the Local Government to declare that sub-clause (1a) shall apply also, in any specified area, to persons licensed to sell country spirit for consumption on their premises. The majority of us consider that this course is preferable to extending sub-clause (1a) at once to all country-spirit shops, because it has not been shown that women are extensively employed in such shops, or that any scandal has resulted from their employment in such shops.

Clause 25.

31. We have altered sub-clause (3) so as to require any Magistrate closing a shop under sub-section (1) [and not only a Magistrate or Police Officer closing a shop under sub-section (2)] to report his action to the Collector, and to declare that the reasons for closing a shop shall be stated whenever a report is made under the clause.

Clause 26.

32. We have excepted tari from sub-clause (c), because it is not intended to impose duty on the drawing of tari in any but notified areas, provision as to which is contained in sub-clause (1a) of clause 26.

33. We have also made further alterations in sub-clause (c), and inserted a new sub-clause, (cc), for reasons similar to those given in paragraphs 13 and 21 of this Report.

34. We have changed the position of the Explanation to this clause so as to make it clear that the proviso [which is now numbered sub-clause (2)], as to customs duty, is not to be governed by the Explanation.

35. With reference to the remarks of the Bengal National Chamber of Commerce on clause 26, we would point out that, as sub-clause (ii) stands, denatured spirit will be liable to an excise duty of five per cent. ad valorem only, as already provided by section 1 of Act XVI of 1863 as amended by section 6 of Act VIII of 1894, and that that rate may be reduced with the sanction of the Government of India.

Clauses 34 to 40.

36. We have considered the opinions expressed—

(1) in favour of the retention of section 84 of the existing Act (Bengal Act VII of 1878), which empowers the Local Government, with the sanction of the Governor General in Council, to assign powers to Municipalities as to granting of licenses, and

(2) in favour of making statutory provision for the creation of Licensing Committees or Advisory Committees, and a majority of us consider that the provisions of section 84 of the existing Act, which have never been used, should not be repeated in this Bill, and that,

with regard to the suggested appointment of Licensing Committees or Advisory Committees, it is not advisable to go beyond the provisions of sub-clause (n) of clause 79 of the Bill, which give full power to the Local Government to regulate the procedure to be followed before any license for the wholesale or retail vend of any excisable article is granted for any locality.

Clause 35.

37. We have altered this clause so as to require the Collector to send an extract from the proposed licensing list to the Chairman of every Municipality concerned, instead of, as provided in the Bill as introduced in Council, to the Chairmen of selected Municipalities only. This change has been made so as to bring the Bill into harmony with existing practice, as prescribed in circular orders of the Board of Revenue. Corresponding alterations have been made in clause 37.

38. We have also altered this clause so as to make it the duty of the Collector to affix a notice of licensing proposals on the sites of all shops for the retail sale of spirit, whether situated in a Municipality or not, and also, in the case of all new shops, wherever to be situated, to proclaim such proposals by beat of drum.

39. To meet the point taken by Mr. Bompas, Collector of the 24-Parganas, that the site of a shop may be changed in a new settlement, we have inserted the words "or in the vicinity" in sub-clauses (a1) and (a2) of clause 35.

Clause 37.

40. In addition to the alterations referred to in paragraph 37 of this Report, we have made the following changes in clause 37:—

(1) we have made an addition to sub-clause (a), to give rate-payers of adjoining wards a right to object to the grant of licenses in Municipal Wards;

(2) we have made an addition in sub-clause (b), to give persons residing in the vicinity of shops outside Municipalities a right to object to the grant of licenses;

(3) we have given the District Magistrate a statutory right to object to the grant of licenses, because he is not always the Collector of the district;

(4) we have altered sub-clause (ii) so as to leave it optional with the Chairman of a Municipality to express an opinion on licensing proposals, and to give the Municipal Commissioners a right to express their opinion if they should wish to do so;

(5) we have altered sub-clause (4) so as to leave it optional with the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, to express an opinion on licensing proposals.

Clause 38.

41. We have made additions to this clause to require all proposals for licensing the retail sale of spirit, and all objections thereto and opinions thereon, in areas outside the Calcutta district, to be submitted to the Commissioner of the Division, to be sent by him to the Excise Commissioner.

Clause 39.

42. We have altered sub-clause (b) so as to require the Excise Commissioner to refer to the Board of Revenue any difference of opinion between himself and the Commissioner of a Division or the Corporation of Calcutta in the matter of licensing proposals.

Clause 40.

43. In view of the alterations referred to in paragraph 37 of this Report, we have simplified clause 40 by leaving to the discretion of the Board of Revenue the application of clauses 34 to 39 to excisable articles other than spirit.

Clause 42.

44. To clause 42 of the Bill as introduced in Council was attached a proviso declaring that no fee should be charged for any permit, granted under clause 18, sub-clause (1), for the possession of an excisable article for bonâ fide private consumption or use. We have struck out this proviso, as being much too wide. Any exemption from fees that may be required can be allowed under sub-clause (i) of clause 42.

Clause 40 of the Bengal Excise Bill, 1904.

45. In sub-clause (2) (b) of clause 40 of the Bengal Excise Bill, 1904, it was proposed to declare that, subject to any rules made by the Board of Revenue in this behalf, no license should be granted for the retail sale of country spirit or tari at any place situated near any bathing-ghat, place of water-supply used by the public, school, hospital, place of public worship, factory, workshop or tea-garden. We have considered whether any clause of this kind should be inserted in the present Bill. A minority of our number would prefer to insert a clause of the kind, with reference particularly to bathing-ghats, and with some modification of details. But the majority are opposed to making statutory provisions on the subject: they recognize that the Excise Department should pay proper deference to public opinion in the matter of the location of liquor shops; but they consider that such specific directions as are needed in this matter should be given in rules made under sub-clause (j) of clause 79 of the Bill, and not in the Bill itself, the provisions of which will be unalterable except by fresh resort to the Legislature.

Clause 50.

46. We have expressly extended this clause to cases in which a licensee or the grantee of an exclusive privilege contravenes any provision of the Bill or of any rule made under it.

Clause 51.

47. Sub-clause (b) has been altered, and a new sub-clause, (bb), inserted, for the reason mentioned in paragraph 13 of this Report.

48. The new sub-clause (bb) expressly penalises the unlawful sale of any portion of the hemp plant from which an intoxicating drug can be manufactured or produced. Since the entire hemp plant is not an "excisable article," as defined in clause 2 (5) of the Bill, the sale thereof is not covered by sub-clause (a) of clause 51.

49. Sub-clause (g) of clause 51 of the Bill as introduced in Council expressly penalised the tapping of tari-producing trees and the drawing of tari from trees in areas specially notified. We have struck out the sub-clause because its object is met by sub-clause (a) of clause 51, when read with the definition of "manufacture" in clause 2 (14) of the Bill.

Clause 52.

50. We have altered the word "shall" to "may", so as to lessen the severity of the presumption of guilt attaching to the possession of contraband articles.

51. A majority of us are in favour of retaining sub-clauses (a) and (b); also of retaining sub-clause (c) with the modifications now made in it, which are designed to exclude articles, such as rice or mohwa (unfermented), which may be possessed with a perfectly innocent intention.

Clause 52A.

52. Sub-clause (hh) of clause 79 of the Bill as introduced in Council empowered the Local Government to make rules for prohibiting attempts to render denatured spirit fit for human consumption, and for prohibiting the possession of spirit in respect of which such attempts have been made. The penalty prescribed by clause 60 of the Bill for a breach of such rules is a fine of Rs. 200 only. That penalty is much less severe than the penalties prescribed by the existing law, namely, section 4 of the Excise (Spirits) Act, 1863 (XVI of 1863). We consider that no practical object is gained by empowering the Local Government to make rules on this subject, and that it would be better to prohibit the acts in question by direct enactment, as is done by the Act of 1863, just cited. We also think that the penalties for such acts should be the same as those prescribed for other serious breaches of the excise law by clause 51 of the Bill. We have accordingly inserted a new clause, numbered 52A, in the Bill, and have struck out sub-clause (hh) of clause 79 of the Bill as introduced in Council.

Clauses 53 and 53A.

53. We have extended these clauses to servants of licensed manufacturers or vendors.

Clause 54.

54. We have extended this clause to servants of licensed vendors.

55. Sub-clause (a1) of clause 54 of the Bill as introduced in Council expressly penalised the possession of excisable articles in contravention of clause 18 (2a). We have struck out the sub-clause because its object is met by sub-clause (a) of clause 51.

56. We have altered the words "shop or public room" in sub-clauses (d), (e) and (2) of clause 54 to "premises", because drinking may be carried on in courtyards or other places not being shops or public rooms.

57. We have also, following clause (e) of section 56 of the Madras Abkari Act, 1886 (Madras Act I of 1886), altered sub-clause (e) of clause 54 of the Bill so as to extend it to the case of a single individual of bad character being permitted to remain on licensed premises.

Clause 57A.

58. This clause takes the place of clause 6 of the Bill as introduced in Council. We have, at the suggestion of the Commissioner of Burdwan, the Commissioner of Bhagalpur and the Commissioners of the Corporation of Calcutta, altered the clause so as to extend it to possession by any person on account of another. Clause 6 of the Bill as introduced in Council was confined to possession by a wife, clerk or servant, but there is no reason why it should not extend to possession by an agent or any other person.

59. We have also extended the clause to manufacture and sale by any person on account of another. The Bill controls dealings with excisable articles in the matters of manufacture and sale as well as in the matter of possession, and we see no reason why this clause should not extend to the two former matters as well as to the latter.

Clause 58.

60. We have added section 53A to the list of sections contained in this clause.

Clause 59.

61. We have struck out the portions of sub-clause (a) of clause 59 of the Bill as introduced in Council which relate to entry and inspection. It is, in our opinion, inexpedient to provide a heavy penalty in the Bill for a mere entry or inspection. If any wrongful entry be of a serious character, resort can be had to the sections (441 et seq.) of the Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) relating to criminal trespass.

62. We have altered the maximum fine of six months' pay, provided by clause 59 of the Bill as introduced in Council, to a sum of Rs. 500, so as to restore the limit laid down in section 69 of the Bengal Excise and Licensing Act, 1878 (Ben. Act VII of 1878). A fine of six months' pay would in many cases amount to a very small sum, and would in other cases amount to a sum much larger than Rs. 500.

Clause 60.

63. We have struck out the words "or intentional omission," so as to admit of the application of clause (1) of section 3 of the Bengal General Clauses Act, 1899 (Ben. Act I of 1899), which declares that words which refer to acts done shall extend also to illegal omissions.

Clause 61.

64. We have altered this clause so as to place certain persons exercising powers of a Collector by delegation under sub-clause (aa) or (g) of clause 8 in the same position as a Collector himself in the matter of contempts of Court.

Clause 63.

65. Clause 63 of the Bill as introduced in Council contained a proviso declaring that the clause should not prevent the holding of summary trials under the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898. In view of the second clause (a) in section 260 of the Code, it is unnecessary to retain the proviso, and we have struck it out.

Clause 66.

66. We have added a proviso to sub-clause (2) to declare that animals or conveyances used in carrying articles in respect of which an excise offence has been committed shall not be liable to confiscation unless the owner thereof is proved to have been implicated in the offence. The proviso embodies the ruling of the High Court in Golap Saha v. The Emperor (1907), XII, Calcutta Weekly Notes, 139.

Clause 68.

67. We have, in sub-clause (a), added the unauthorised transfer of a license, permit or pass to the list of offences which may be compounded.

68. We have made an addition to sub-clause (b) in order to prevent conflict between the authority of Excise Officers and Magistrates in the matter of the release of property which is liable to confiscation.

69. We have also made an addition to sub-clause (b) in order to admit of an Excise Officer accepting any sum not exceeding the value of the property which it is proposed to release.

Clause 69.

70. We have declared the exercise of the powers conferred by this clause to be subject, like those conferred by clause 70, to any restrictions prescribed by the Local Government by rule made under clause 79.

Clauses 71, 72 and 73.

71. We have added section 52A (attempts to render denatured spirit fit for human consumption) to the list of offences for which the Collector may issue a warrant of arrest or for which the Collector or Magistrate may issue a search-warrant or for which a search may be made without a warrant.

Clause 73A.

72. We have altered this clause so as to limit the duties of village chaukidars and daffadars (save as further provided in clause 73B) to rendering aid to Excise Officers, at their request.

Clause 73B.

73. We have altered this clause so as to require notice to be given of the unlawful collection of those portions only of the hemp plant from which an intoxicating drug can be manufactured or produced. The alteration follows that referred to in paragraph 13 of this Report.

74. We have also required daffadars of rural police, as well as the other persons referred to in clause 73B, to give notice, under the clause, of certain illicit proceedings.

Clauses 73C to 74D.

75. These clauses take the place of clauses 64 and 74 to 76 of the Bill as introduced in Council, relating to bail and to the investigation of excise offences by Excise Officers. They reproduce, with slight modifications, clauses 43 to 51 of the Eastern Bengal and Assam Excise Bill, which contain fuller provisions on these subjects.

Clause 74E.

76. This clause takes the place of sub-clause (13) of clause 2 of the Bill as introduced in Council. It declares what classes of Magistrates may try offences punishable under the Bill, and is preferable to the corresponding clause in the Bill as introduced, in that it avoids barring other Magistrates from exercising other functions, e g., receiving information as to unlicensed manufacture (clause 73B).

Clause 74F.

77. We have altered this clause so as to allow Magistrates to take cognizance of offences referred to in clause 54 or sub-clauses (a) to (c) of clause 59 on complaint made by any person.

78. We have also altered sub-clause (a) of clause 74F so as to admit of Magistrates taking cognizance of offences under clause 51, 55 or 56 on the complaint or report of any officer empowered in this behalf by the Local Government.

Clause 74G.

79. This clause is new. It seems to us to be necessary, with reference to the provisions of section 191 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (Act V of 1898), to place information received from Excise Officers on the same footing as police-reports.

Clauses 79 and 80.

80. We have transferred from the Local Government (clause 79) to the Board of Revenue (clause 80) the power to make rules as to the strength, price, sale-quantities and quality of excisable articles, the denaturing of spirit, and the levy of duties.

81. We have made some alterations in sub-clause (j) of clause 79, with the object of giving fuller power to the Local Government to prohibit or regulate the grant of licenses for retail sale at particular places.

82. We have inserted a sub-clause, (qq), in clause 79, to empower the Local Government to make rules for restricting or modifying the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, in their application to Excise Officers when investigating offences.

83. Sub-clause (o) of clause 79 of the Bill as introduced in Council empowered the Local Government to make rules for regulating the power of Excise Officers to summon witnesses under the Bill. We have struck out the sub-clause, as being covered by the new sub-clause (qq), when read with section 160 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, which is applied to Excise Officers by clause 73D (1) of the Bill.

84. We have added a sub-clause, (3), to clause 79, to declare, in accordance with present practice, that rules made by the Local Government under the Bill must be published in draft for criticism. Cases will arise, however, in which the immediate publication of rules will be essential, and a proviso has been added to authorise this being done at the discretion of the Local Government.

85. To clause 80 we have added sub-clauses empowering the Board of Revenue to make rules to regulate the bottling of liquor for sale [sub-clause (aa)], to prescribe the particulars to be contained in licenses, permits or passes, as contemplated by clause 42 [sub-clause (5a1) of clause 80], to provide for the payment of compensation to licensees whose premises are temporarily closed under the Bill [sub-clause (5a)], and to prescribe forms to be used under the Bill [sub-clause (8)].

Clause 83.

86. We have altered sub-clause (3) so as to make money due to the grantee of an exclusive privilege, or his lessee or assignee, recoverable, on his application, by the Collector, in the same way as money due to the Collector. This change will avoid difficulties which might have arisen under clause 83 (3) of the Bill as introduced in Council, which authorised the recovery of such dues by the process prescribed for the recovery of rent.

Clause 84 of the Bill as introduced in Council.

87. Clause 84 of the Bill as introduced in Council declared that the Bill should not apply to medicated articles in the hands of medical practitioners, chemists, druggists, apothecaries or keepers of dispensaries, except in so far as the Local Government might direct. A minority of our number would retain the clause, adding safeguards to prevent evasion of the excise law. But the majority feel considerable doubt whether such a general exemption, which is not given by the existing law, can safely be provided, and consider that clause 85 of the Bill (which empowers the Local Government to exempt any excisable articles from any of the provisions of the Bill) is sufficient to meet the object in view. The said clause 84 has therefore been left out of the Bill as now amended.

88. We recommend that the Bill, as now amended, be passed.

89. We regret that the Hon'ble Babu Gajadhar Prasad has been prevented, by illness, from taking part in our meetings.

* I sign this Report subject to the following note of dissent.

NOTE OF DISSENT.

Clause 21 (1) (d) and (e).—These sub-clauses should be omitted, as they militate against the well-accepted principle of separating the manufacture from the vend of liquor.

2. Clause 24.—The prohibitory limit of age should be raised to 16, which, under the Hindu Law, is the starting time of the age of discretion. Age limit must necessarily be arbitrary. For the purpose of the present legislation, the Legislature should be strict rather than lenient in keeping away, so far as possible, from the drinking booths, children of immature age and intellect, and whose character has not been formed.

3. Sub-clause (1a) of Clause 24 should be merged in sub-clause (1), prohibiting the employment of women alike in foreign liquor and country liquor shops, and sub-clause (1b) should be omitted. There is a strong feeling in this respect, both amongst the officials and non-officials.

4. Clause 26.—No duty should be imposed on denatured spirit, as it is an article of trade and in no sense an intoxicating liquor. It is not consumed by human beings to produce intoxication. The levy of an excise duty practically operates to countervail the tariff duty payable for foreign denatured spirit imported into India, though that tariff duty has not been found to be in the nature of protection. No less an authority than John Stuart Mill has advocated a temporary protection to infant and promising industries. I am wholly at one with the Bengal National Chamber of Commerce[1] on this point.

5. I also propose that the suggestion of the Excise Deputy Collector of Darjeeling,[2] which has been supported by the Commissioner of the Bhagalpur Division, to the effect that no action should lie to recover any debt alleged to be due in respect of any liquor consumed on the premises where sold, be embodied in the Chapter of the Bill headed "Miscellaneous". There is a similar provision in the English Statute 30 & 31 Vict., c. 96.[3] The usefulness of such a provision, as tending to the suppression of drunkenness, is quite patent.

† I sign the Report with reservation.

2. Clause 21 is of a comprehensive character and gives wide powers to the Local Government to grant exclusive privilege of manufacture and sale of country liquor or intoxicating drugs to any person within a specified area, and there is no provision which makes it obligatory on the Government to be guided by the public opinion of the locality concerned. Sub-clauses (d) and (e) do not sufficiently provide for the separation of the manufacture from the vend of liquor.

3. In clause 24, the minimum age of children to be employed in liquor shops should be raised to eighteen, and women should be prevented from being employed, both in country and foreign liquor shops.

4. Section 84 of the existing Act, which empowers the Local Government, with the sanction of the Governor-General in Council, to assign to the Corporation of Calcutta or to any other Municipality power to grant excise licenses in their respective jurisdictions, should not be omitted from the Bill. If, however, it is decided not to retain the section, it is advisable to make a provision in the Bill for the appointment of Licensing Boards, consisting of officials and non-officials, in Calcutta and in such other important districts as the Local Government may be pleased to direct.

5. Tari is defined in clause 2 (19) as "fermented or unfermented juice drawn from any cocoanut, palmyra, date or other kind of palm tree." Unfermented juice of the date tree, popularly known as khejur ras, should not be included in the definition of tari. It is a non-intoxicating and cooling beverage, and should not be brought under the operation of the Excise law.

6. Denatured spirit is not used for human consumption, and is largely used in the local manufacture of varnish, paint, essences, etc. In the interest of the struggling indigenous industries, no duty should be imposed on the same, when manufactured in India.

7. These are the main points I desire to note in this minute.

The 7th July, 1909. RADHA CHARAN PAL.

‡As an interpreter (which I consider is the position of a non-official Member) of the feelings of the people, I consider it my duty to bring to the notice of Government all matters where the policy and intentions of Government are likely to be misunderstood by the people. The following note is written from this point of view. There is an appreciable section of the public whose opinion on excise administration is deserving of consideration on account of the benevolent intentions and influential position of those who hold the opinion. An appreciable section of the public believe that, with Government, fiscal considerations outweigh all other considerations in matters relating to excise administration. Concession to public feeling, when not in conflict with undisputed rights or established principles, is not an unwise policy in a country ruled by a foreign nation.

2. In the light of the above remarks, I beg respectfully to take exception to the nature of the penalty provided in clauses 51, 52A., 54, 55 and 56; the power to compound offences under clause 68; the right of transfer under clause 22, and the recovery of dues under clause 83 of the Bill. Penalty provisions should aim at the repression of offences. To attain this object they should be calculated to have the necessary deterrent effect on the class of persons to which the offenders belong. The punishment provided in the above clauses is imprisonment of three months or a heavy fine. In no case is a Court bound to sentence the offender to imprisonment. In the practical working of these clauses imprisonment will be the share of the poor, and heavy fine that of the well-to-do offender. Some of the graver offences are most likely to be committed by men of means. Under the rules of the Department, Excise Officers and persons who assist them in the detection of offences are rewarded out of fines. The informers and witnesses generally come from a class to whom the prospect of a pecuniary reward is by no means an insufficient motive for getting up false charges. It is more than likely that such men will direct their energies to select their victims out of the well-to-do class. Accordingly, by reason of their failure to have the necessary deterrent effect on rich offenders, and no less by reason of their tendency to facilitate false charges against that class, the penalty clauses of the Bill deserve reconsideration. The practice of rewarding out of fines inflicted is considered invidious by other Departments engaged in similar work, and is viewed with distrust by the public.

3. The power given to the Collector to compound offences, and especially offences under clause 54 of the Bill, lends force to the public opinion that fiscal considerations outweigh all other considerations in the Excise Department. A respectable man, when charged (though the charge be false), would rather pay a sum of money and compound with the Collector than go through the trouble and exposure of a trial in Court. In cases compounded persons who fabricate false evidence have nothing to fear. Their testimony will not be tested by the scrutiny of a trial in Court. This will add to the motive and facilities of getting up false charges. It is to be hoped that the money received by compounding will not be spent in giving rewards.

4. Clause 21 of the Bill is new. It authorizes the Local Government to grant an exclusive privilege. Clause 22 authorizes the grantee of the exclusive privilege to let or assign, if so authorized by the grant. This clause contemplates two classes of persons, the original grantee from Government and his lessee or assignee. It does not contemplate the case of a lessee or assignee of the second degree—the lessee of a lessee or the assignee of an assignee. Clause 83 authorizes the Collector to recover money from the lessee or assignee. Sub-clause (3) of clause 83 speaks of the application of the "lessee" or "assignee" to the Collector for the recovery of money due by any person holding under him. This points to a lessee or assignee of the second degree. This is inconsistent with clause 22, which limits the right of letting an assignment to the grantee from Government. It is not desirable to bring into statutory existence lessees and assignees of second or still higher degrees. The right of transfer recognised by clause 22 is greater than is allowed under the English Law. Under the English Law the permission to transfer is given under circumstances when such circumstances justify the transfer; the present

Bill gives an unfettered right to transfer provided the transferee is approved by the Collector.

5. The Madras Act authorizes recovery of money due to the grantee under the "law in force with regard to landholder and tenant." The draft Bill of the Excise Committee is to the same effect; but the present Bill makes the amount due to the grantee recoverable as arrears of revenue. If leases and assignments by lessees and assignees of the original grantee are allowed, the result of such a system will, in a few years, be the growth of a class of middlemen who will have no responsibility and yet be armed with the summary certificate procedure to realize their share of profits.

6. With these remarks, I beg to subscribe to the Report of the Select Committee sent to me.

7. I take this opportunity to express my grateful acknowledgment of the sympathetic consideration which non-official views received at the hands of the Hon'ble Mr. W. C. Macpherson and the Hon'ble Mr. E. P. Chapman during the discussion of the Bill by the Select Committee.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE object of this Bill is to introduce various amendments into the Calcutta Police Act, 1866 (Ben. Act IV of 1866), and the Calcutta Suburban Police Act, 1866 (Ben. Act II of 1866). These Acts were passed at a time when the administration of the Police Department was far less complex than it has now become, and it is necessary to amplify them by conferring power on the Police to meet various emergencies which arise at the present day. A comprehensive Police Act for the City of Bombay was passed in the year 1902 (Bombay Act IV of that year). That Act contains many provisions which it would be useful to have in Calcutta, and it is proposed by the present Bill to import some of them, with all necessary modifications, into the City of Calcutta, and others into both the City and the Suburbs of Calcutta. The substantive clauses of the Bill are explained in the subjoined notes.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

1. Clause 3 introduces into the City of Calcutta part of clauses (a) and (b), and, in a modified form, clause (c), of the City of Bombay Police Act, 1902 (Bombay Act IV of 1902—hereinafter called "the Bombay Act"). These clauses contain definitions which are required for the Calcutta Police Act, 1866 (Bengal Act IV of 1866—hereinafter called "the Calcutta Act"), as it now stands, as well as for new sections which it is now proposed to introduce into that Act; and two of them are based upon definitions contained in section 4 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (Act V of 1898). The clauses are not required in the Suburbs of Calcutta, because the Code of Criminal Procedure already extends thereto.

2. Clause 4 introduces several definitions into both the Calcutta Act and the Calcutta Suburban Police Act, 1866 (Ben. Act II of 1866—hereinafter called "the Suburban Act").

The definition of "explosive substance" is taken from the Explosive Substances Act, 1908 (VI of 1908), and is required in connection with clauses 12, 13 and 14(1) (f) (iii) of the Bill. Recent events have shown the necessity for importing this definition into the two local Police Acts.

The definitions of "place of public amusement" and "place of public entertainment" are taken from the Bombay Act, and are required for the new sections introduced by clause 14 of the Bill.

The definition of "police-station" is taken from section 4 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

The definitions of "public place," "street" and "vehicle" are taken from section 3 of the Bombay Act, modifications being made to adapt them to Calcutta.

3. Clause 5 amends section 13 of the Calcutta Act so as to bring it into line with section 8 of the Suburban Act and with the new form of certificate proposed in clause 28 of the Bill.

4. Clause 6 introduces two new sections into both the Calcutta Act and the Suburban Act. The first (which is based on section 17 of the Bombay Act) prohibits Police-officers from engaging in other occupations without the permission of higher authorities, and the second (which is based on section 18 of the Bombay Act, section 12 of the Calcutta Act, and section 6 of the Suburban Act) authorizes the infliction of imprisonment or fine for breach of the first section or for other violations of duty. A prohibition against engaging in other occupations is now contained in departmental rules, and the present proposals will give those rules statutory force and provide a penalty for breach of them. The carrying on of other occupations might obviously interfere with the proper performance of their official duties by Police-officers, and ought to be checked by statutory provision.

5. Clause 7 introduces a section into both the Calcutta Act and the Suburban Act to authorize the infliction of imprisonment or fine on persons making false statements to obtain employment in the Police-force, or release from such employment. The section reproduces section 20 of the Bombay Act. Instances have occurred in which undesirable persons have sought, by means of false declarations, to obtain employment in the Calcutta Police; and prosecutions under section 182 of the Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) are cumbersome and apt to take up a good deal of time.

6. Clause 8 introduces into both the Calcutta Act and the Suburban Act sub-section (1) of section 11 of the Bombay Act, relating to the constitution of divisions and sections. The contemplated re-division of the City and Suburban areas into four districts under Deputy Commissioners, in supersession of the present five divisions under Superintendents, will necessitate a re-adjustment of some of the existing boundaries. The new boundaries will probably be merely Divisional boundaries, and the re-division will not affect the present unit of administration, namely, the Police-section area.

7. Clause 9—Section 29 of the Calcutta Act prohibits, under penalty, trespasses on private or public property. It is proposed, by clause 9 of the Bill, to introduce into the Suburban Act the very similar section (numbered 111) contained in the Bombay Act, and, for the sake of uniformity, to insert the same section in the Calcutta Act, in place of the existing section 29. The conditions in the city and the suburbs are identical. In the suburbs there are many Government buildings and grounds to which the new section would be applicable, e. g., Belvedere, Hastings House, and the Ballygunge Cavalry lines, and many plots of land which are appropriated to public purposes.

8. Clause 10 makes a verbal change in section 33 of the Suburban Act, with reference to the definition of "police-station" in clause 4 of the Bill.

9. Clause 11 introduces into both the Calcutta Act and the Suburban Act a section [based on section 2 of the Howrah Offences Act, 1857 (XXI of 1857), and section 114 of the Bombay Act] designed to put an end to the pilfering of unidentifiable goods, such as jute, grain, salt, sugar, coal, etc., which is extensively practised at docks, wharves and railway-stations. The necessity for inserting this section has been strongly represented by the Port Commissioners, the Manager of the Eastern Bengal State Railway and the Commissioner of Police, it having been found very difficult to obtain convictions under the ordinary law in the absence of means of proving the ownership of such goods. This difficulty has facilitated the growth of a class of petty receivers of stolen goods, locally known as "Chutkiwallas," whose existence fosters and perpetuates the mischief.

10. Clause 12—Section 60 of the Calcutta Act and section 37 of the Suburban Act empower the Commissioner of Police to issue warrants to search for gunpowder manufactured, sold, kept or carried contrary to the provisions of these Acts. The sections authorize searches being made in the day-time only, and this restriction unnecessarily hampers the police in detecting infractions of the law. They are also limited to gunpowder, and do not extend to explosives of any other kind. And they authorize searches only where a breach of these Acts is suspected, and not where there is reason to suspect a breach of some other Act, e.g., the Explosives Act, 1884 (IV of 1884), the Explosive Substances Act, 1908 (VI of 1908), or the Indian Arms Act, 1878 (XI of 1878). It is proposed, by clause 12 of the Bill, to amend the sections so as to remove these restrictions.

11. Clause 13 substitutes "explosive substances" for "gunpowder" in section 61 of the Calcutta Act and in section 38 of the Suburban Act. This amendment follows one of those proposed in clause 12 of the Bill.

12 Clause 14—Section 62 of the Calcutta Act and section 39 of the Suburban Act are the sections from which the Commissioner of Police derives his power to regulate assemblies and processions in public places, to keep order in public places, and to license the use of music in streets on the occasion of festivals and ceremonies. The sections, even with the amendment made by Bengal Act III of 1907, are very inadequate to present needs; and it is proposed, by clause 14 of the Bill, to substitute for them the more comprehensive sections 22, 23, 26 and 38 contained in the Bombay Act.

The main defects in the existing sections are that they are not sufficiently comprehensive, and do not authorize the making of general rules to meet all occassions. The principal amendments proposed in the new sections are noted below:—

13. First new section.—Clause (a) is entirely new. The necessity for licensing and controlling persons employed in carrying passengers' baggage to and from ships lying in the Port of Calcutta has long been realised, and the enactment of this clause will ensure greater safety for baggage. The supervision of the licensing and controlling staff might very properly be undertaken by the Deputy Commissioner in charge of the Port Police.

Clauses (b) and (c) merely amplify the present law. They will admit of the collection of a number of scattered Police regulations.

Clause (d) is new. The necessity for taking power to prescribe the lights to be used on vehicles is felt in Calcutta as much as, if not more than, in other cities. Many vehicles, especially bullock-carts, are at present very imperfectly lit in the streets of Calcutta, to the constant danger of the public.

Clause (e) is new. Power to regulate the conveyance of great pieces of timber or iron and heavy masses of machinery through the public streets exists, it is understood, in all cities in Europe, and is much wanted in Calcutta, where many of the business quarters have extremely narrow streets. The right to move such things would ordinarily be confined to hours when the streets are not crowded by the regular and fast-moving traffic.

Clause (f) merely amplifies the existing law.

Clause (g) is new, and is obviously necessary.

14. New section A, sub-section (1) is new. It empowers local Police-officers, of rank not inferior to that of Sub-Inspector to give directions, subject to the orders of the Commissioner of Police and to any standing rule, for the conduct of processions and assemblies and in certain other matters in which the public convenience might be threatened. It is often necessary for the local Sub-Inspector to act on his own initiative in such matters; and the proviso that his action is to be guided by orders and rules will prevent misuse of the powers with which it is proposed to invest him.

Sub-sections (2) and (3) confer on the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, certain powers which are vested in the Commissioner of Police, Bombay, for securing the safety and convenience of the public. Occasions have arisen in Calcutta, showing the necessity of having such powers there; and the conditions of Bombay and Calcutta are not so dissimilar as to justify the existence of differing laws for securing the public safety, convenience and order.

Sub-section (4) is new, but merely legalises a practice that has obtained in Calcutta and other large cities for very many years.

Sub-section (5) is new. It differentiates between punishments according to the gravity of the offence.

15. New sections B and C are new, and are obviously necessary.

16. Clause 15 re-enacts clause 12 of section 19 of Act XLVIII of 1860, which applied to the City of Calcutta and was repealed by the Calcutta Act. It cannot now be ascertained why the clause was repealed. The clause is useful as tending to prevent obstructions by salesmen in crowded thoroughfares; and it is proposed to re-introduce it into Calcutta and to make it applicable in the Suburbs as well.

17. Clauses 16, 17 and 18 introduce a new section into both the Calcutta Act and the Suburban Act, with the object of extending the power of the police to arrest offenders without a warrant. The section is based on section 34 of the Bombay Act.

18. Clause 19 makes a verbal change in sections 76 and 77 of the Calcutta Act and sections 45 and 46 of the Suburban Act, with reference to the definition of "police-station" in clause 4 of the Bill.

19. Clause 20 introduces section 62 of the Bombay Act into both the Calcutta Act and the Suburban Act. The section empowers the Commissioner of Police to require the attendance for examination, before himself or before any officer under him who is investigating a cognizable offence, of persons who are in Calcutta or within thirty miles thereof and appear to be acquainted with the facts or circumstances of the offence. It is not proposed to give this power to officers in charge of Police-stations.

The section also empowers the Commissioner of Police to obtain statements of witnesses from any Superintendent of the District Police.

20. Clause 21 introduces into both the Calcutta Act and the Suburban Act section 69 of the Bombay Act, which empowers the Commissioner of Police to issue a warrant to search for persons whom he has reason to believe to be wrongfully confined. The section would ordinarily be used when information is received, after the Magistrates' Courts are closed, that some female is confined in a disorderly house. Her release before the Courts open on the following day might be imperative, and a reference to the Chief Presidency Magistrate or the District Magistrate might be difficult to make. Any order of the Commissioner of Police under the section would be ad interim, and would provide for the adequate care of the person concerned until the case could be regularly inquired into.

21. Clause 22 introduces into the Calcutta Act section 68 of the Bombay Act, authorising an officer in charge of a police-station to require any similar officer in any part of Bengal to issue a search-warrant. The section confers on officers in charge of police-stations in the town of Calcutta the powers vested in similar officers in the districts by section 166 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (Act V of 1898). It is not required for the Suburban Act, since section 166 of the Code is in force in the Suburbs.

It is not proposed to repeal the somewhat similar section (80) already contained in the Calcutta Act, since it provides a salutary check upon irresponsible action by subordinate Police-officers.

22. Clause 23—The Suburban Act contains no provisions, such as are enacted in section 99 of the Calcutta Act, as to limitation and notice of actions, and tender of amends. To remedy this defect, it is proposed, by clause 23 of the Bill, to introduce into the Suburban Act section 140 of the Bombay Act, which deals with these matters. It is also proposed, for the sake of uniformity, to introduce that section into the Calcutta Act, in place of section 99 thereof, which is framed in antiquated terms.

23. Clause 24 introduces into the Calcutta Act sections 47 to 49 of the Bombay Act, dealing with the duty of the Police to take charge of unclaimed movable property. These sections are more comprehensive than sections 100 and 101 of the Calcutta Act, and it is proposed that they should be substituted for the latter sections.

The sections will inter alia enable the police to deal, more effectively than they can at present, with the numerous cases which occur in Calcutta of women of ill-fame dying and leaving considerable property but no lawful heir. When such property is not of sufficient value to require the attention of the Administrator-General, it is liable to fall into the hands of the first comer who is quick enough and strong enough to carry it away without opposition.

24. Clause 25 introduces into both the Calcutta Act and the Suburban Act sections 137 to 139 of the Bombay Act, containing useful provisions on matters of procedure.

25. Clause 26 substitutes for the varying forms of certificate appended to the Calcutta Act and the Suburban Act one form for use under both Acts, being the form which is now in actual use.

26. Clause 27 repeals various enactments which are superseded by the Bill; also the reference to the Governor General in Council in section 8 of the Calcutta Act, which it is unnecessary to retain; also section 58 of the Calcutta Act and section 35 of the Suburban Act, which are superseded by rules made under the Explosives Act, 1884 (IV of 1884); also the words in section 66 (2) of the Calcutta Act, and in section 40 (2) of the Suburban Act, which admit of vehicles being driven without lights when there is moonlight.

THE SAMBALPUR (DELEGATION) BILL, 1909.

to authorise the delegation to the Board of Revenue of functions of the Government of Bengal under enactments in force in the district of Sambalpur.

WHEREAS it is expedient to empower the Government of Bengal to delegate to the Board of Revenue certain of its functions under enactments in force in the district of Sambalpur;

And whereas the sanction of the Governor General has been obtained, under section 5 of the Indian Councils Act, 1892, to the passing of this Act; [55 & 56 Vict., c. 14.]

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Sambalpur (Delegation) Act, 1909.

Delegation to the Board of Revenue of functions of the Local Government in Sambalpur.

2. The Local Government, with the previous sanction of the Government of India, may, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, delegate to the Board of Revenue any of the functions of the Local Government under any enactment for the time being in force in the district of Sambalpur. [Cf. Act VII of 1905, s. 4 (2); Act XIII of 1908, s. 3.]

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE object of this Bill is to empower the Government of Bengal to delegate to the Board of Revenue certain of its functions under enactments in force in the district of Sambalpur. The functions which it is intended to delegate are, chiefly, some of those under the Central Provinces Land-revenue and Tenancy Acts. A precedent for the Bill will be found in section 3 of the Central Provinces Financial Commissioner's Act, 1908 (XIII of 1908), which empowers the Chief Commissioner of those Provinces to assign any of his functions to the Financial Commissioner.

All delegations will be subject to the previous sanction of the Government of India.

THE ASSASSINATION OF SIR WILLIAM CURZON WYLLIE.

The Hon'ble MR. DAS said :—

"Less than two years ago it was my privilege to meet the late lamented Sir Curzon Wyllie. For an Indian in England to know him was to forget that he was among strangers in a foreign country. One found in him a friend who was in quest of opportunities to be a guide to his feet and a light to his eyes in a foreign land. In life he testified to the Englishman's courtesy and kindness towards the stranger: in death he glorified the noble virtue of benevolence.

We look upon his death with feelings of intense grief, and feel it our sacred duty to express our condolence to Lady Wyllie in her irreparable loss and to the bereaved family of Dr. Lalcaca, who met with death in the noble efforts to save an innocent and precious life.

I cannot find words to express my feelings towards the loathsome perpetrator of the crime. To call him a murderer or an assassin is to do him an honour, for murder and assassination have sometimes been committed in vindication of violated rights or in the precipitancy of wounded feelings. Human nature in its lowest depths of degradation and debasement does not furnish the colours wherewith one can paint this man's character. He reminds one of the snake in the fable which bit the hand which fed it with milk. The man whose mind, though educated, conceived such a crime must have a viper's head on human shoulders. It is the viper's head which converts healthy food into deadly poison.

The perpetrator of this detestable crime when produced before the Magistrate claimed to be ranked among the patriots of India. His associate during the last few moments of his life will be the hangman, and that will show how his claim is received by the custodians of Justice and Law; but it is the duty of our leaders, specially those who have opportunities of influencing the rising generation, whether such influence is exercised from the political platform, the lecture-room, the editorial desk or in friendly intercourse, to pronounce in unequivocal and emphatic terms their estimate of the man and the crime.

I believe that a false conception of patriotism and a desire to secure the glorious memory of a patriot at a cheap price are responsible for the whole series of anarchist's crimes recently perpetrated. Neither the India Office nor the Government of India are responsible for these false conceptions—these mistaken ideas. We Indians are responsible for those dangerous conceptions which have converted some youthful minds into the anarchist's workshop. I am not sure that the public demonstrations in connection with some of these crimes did not put a cheap price on the glorious memory of a patriot.

The life of a young man without any idea of his responsibilities as a citizen of an Empire, of his duties and obligations as a member of society, who is yet engaged in study with a view to learn these, is a cheap price for the glorious memory of a patriot. A patriot's glory ought to be the share of a man who works for the good of his country, and if he dies in the struggle he meets with death at the hand of his country's enemies. The wreath of patriotism ought not to crown the head which plots cold-blooded murder. The hangman's noose is the fitting decoration of such a man. This he is sure to receive, and the public ought to cast his memory into a pit of ignominious oblivion.

The time has come when all subjects of the British Empire should sink their differences in colour, creed, caste and political views, and denounce in terms emphatic and unequivocal these dastardly crimes and speak of their perpetrators in befitting terms of contempt and indignation. The father and the family of Madan Lal have given us their estimate of the foul deed, and it is to be hoped that will be accepted as the right standard whereby the public, and especially our young men, should judge these misguided pseudo-patriots.

The Hon'ble the PRESIDENT said:—

"Gentlemen, the words which have fallen from Mr. Das this morning on the subject of the recent murders in London will, I trust, find an echo in the hearts of all right-thinking men in Bengal. I will not detract from their impressiveness by adding any remarks of my own. Not only in this province, but also in many other parts of India, the press and public speakers alike have hastened to denounce this outrage as well as those others which preceded it. Some of these may have been less prominent in the public eye, but I doubt whether they were less insidious in their effects or less dangerous in the long run to public tranquillity. But, gentlemen, it has been pointed out that the time has come when something much more than denunciation is required. The time has come for action. It would be well if all those now present, and also all the greater audience outside, were to read, mark, learn and inwardly digest the forcible pronouncement which was made on this subject a few days ago by Mr. Gokhale at Poona. He has laid down with perfect clearness the lines on which the people of India must act if they desire to put a peremptory end to these ill-aimed atrocities whose only consequence must be the holding back of the national advancement of the country. They must not be content merely to talk. They must organize an active and universal campaign of co-operation with the Government. Parents and guardians must act. Those who hold the conduct of education in their hands must act. Above all, the student community itself must act. These three classes comprehend between them the power of the present and the control of the coming generation. If they will act, and act together, they will wipe out, as with a sponge, all traces of that mischievous movement which might almost be classed with comic opera if it were not on occasion homicidal. But if they fail to use the peaceful weapon that lies ready to their hands, if they abdicate their authority in favour of a handful of young men of immature age, of imperfect or non-existent education, and of undisciplined emotions, they may rest assured that the solution will come none the less, but that it will be neither painless nor peaceful, and that in the application of the remedy there will be little room for nice discrimination between the innocent and the guilty.

THE BENGAL EXCISE BILL, 1909.

The Hon'ble Mr. Macpherson presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to Consolidate and Amend the Excise Law in Bengal.

He said:—"I present the Report of the Select Committee appointed to consider the Bill framed to consolidate and amend the Excise Law. I also present the Bill as revised by the Select Committee.

"We much regret that one of the Members of the Select Committee, the Hon'ble Babu Gajadhar Prasad, was prevented by illness from taking part in our meetings.

"The Committee met eight times and discussed the Bill clause by clause. It was not possible to notice in our report, which extends over 10 printed pages, all the suggestions and recommendations made by individuals and public bodies who furnished opinions on the Bill. But I believe that we did not overlook any suggestions or recommendations.

"I wish especially to acknowledge the helpful criticisms of the Bill received from Mr. D. J. Macpherson, Commissioner of Burdwan, and from Mr. Samman, Collector of Monghyr. We took a good many hints from the Eastern Bengal and Assam Bill, which was introduced in the Council two months after our own Bill, and in particular have adopted the provisions of that Bill in regard to investigations and cognizance of excise offences and with regard to bail.

"The Bill as it is now presented by the Select Committee is the result of the labour of many hands. It remains in substance and form to a large extent the work of the Indian Excise Committee of 1905-06, but it still bears the marks of the labours of the Select Committee of this Council of 1904, and in particular it reproduces, with some modifications, provisions which prescribe how public opinion is to be ascertained in regard to licensing and it also reproduces provisions of the 1904 Bill which were made to prevent drunkenness, employment of children in liquor shops and sale to children.

"It might be ungrateful for me to omit mention of the work of my colleagues in the Select Committee, but it would be also presumptuous for me to say more than that both the official members and the non-official members have given great assistance in the discussions and in shaping the provisions of the Bill. I believe that the Select Committee has much improved the Bill.

"I should like to take this opportunity also of saying how much help we have received from the learned Secretary to the Council, Mr. Wigley, who has brought great industry and store of legal acumen and knowledge to bear on the drafting of the Bill. I am personally indebted to Mr. Wigley for his unwearied patience and resource in dealing with difficulties.

"It will be observed that the report is signed by all the Members of the Select Committee, but that the three non-official members have also appended notes of reservation or dissent. Perhaps there are no questions on which greater divergence of opinion is found than on the temperance question. I would remind Hon'ble Members of the reports of the Royal Commission appointed in England nine years ago to report on intoxicating liquors. This was a very strong Commission, having among its members statesmen, lawyers, divines, and temperance reformers. The Commission finally submitted two reports, namely, a report of the majority containing 17 signatures and a report of the minority containing 9 signatures. There were 7 reservations by individuals, or groups of individuals in the case of the majority report and 3 reservations and 2 addenda in the case of the minority report. I think that in recognition of the disagreements which are so usual and so fundamental in questions of excise and temperance, our Select Committee may be congratulated on the measure of unanimity which has been obtained in regard to the Bill before the Council.

"I shall not take up the time of the Council going over all the ground covered by the Select Committee's report, which is in the hands of Hon'ble Members. The alterations of expression and arrangement are numerous; but the important modifications of principle or substance are not many, and such modifications have only been made, I think, for better carrying out the approved policy of the Bill.

"It is now nearly 15 years since the consolidation and amendment of the Excise Law in Bengal was first proposed, and although a short amending Act was passed in the year 1903, many of the questions which were being discussed 15 years ago are still being discussed and probably may be discussed long after we have all ceased to be Members of this Council. I venture to ask for the co-operation of Hon'ble Members in furthering the progress of the Bill which is now before us. The Bill has been described as retrograde, in that it proposes to repeal the section of the existing law which gives discretion to the Local Government to make over licensing to Municipal authorities. For reasons, however, which have been often explained, that authority has never been exercised. The Bill in fact goes far beyond what is advised by the Indian Excise Committee and far beyond what has been enacted or proposed in other provinces in making provisions which have been hitherto left to rule for ascertainment of public opinion in regard to licensing and for preventing drunkenness. I do not expect, Sir, that we shall be able to pass a law which will satisfy every one, but I believe that if we work as far as possible harmoniously, we can at last get through this Council a law which will be a great improvement on the existing law.

"May I explain that we could not at this stage introduce a new principle into our Bill without entailing reference to the Government of India and, perhaps, to the Secretary of State, and thereby further delaying the passing of an amended law.

"The Council will not be asked I understand, Sir, to discuss the Bill to-day. But at our next meeting I hope to move that the clauses of the Bill be considered in the form recommended by the Select Committee; and after the clauses have been settled by the Council I shall move that the Bill be passed.

"Under Your Honour's order the Committee's report and the revised Bill will be published in to-morrow's Calcutta Gazette.

"I shall be grateful to Hon'ble Members for early notice of any amendments of the Bill which they may propose to bring forward."

THE CALCUTTA AND SUBURBAN POLICE (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1909.

The Hon'ble Mr. Duke moved for leave to introduce a Bill further to amend the Calcutta Police Act, 1866, and the Calcutta Suburban Police Act, 1866.

He said:—"The Bill which I have now to present and ask for leave to introduce in Council is supported by a full statement of objects and reasons, and does not perhaps require any very elaborate explanation from me. The existing Calcutta Police Act and Calcutta Suburban Police Act were both passed in 1866, and having regard to that date it is natural that they should frequently have come before Council for amendment. The conditions of life and therefore of administration in Calcutta were infinitely less complex when these Acts were passed than they are now, and probably the change is even more marked in the suburbs than in Calcutta itself. They have been amended from time to time to meet modern conditions, and attention has recently been drawn to certain matters in which they appear to require further amendment. Vagueness of expression, the use of phraseology not in accordance with that of later Acts, and references to a state of things different from that of the present day, or the failure to include new facts of the same classes as those dealt with,—all tend to involve the police in uncertainty as to their powers and to raise doubts in them and others as to whether they are acting strictly according to law. It is sought to remedy this by the introduction of provisions couched in language more precise and more applicable to present-day conditions.

"The changes proposed contain nothing revolutionary. They are taken almost verbatim from the City of Bombay Police Act, which was passed in 1902, and is naturally better suited to the conditions of a great Indian city than the Calcutta Acts, which date from more than a generation earlier.

"Their number is, however, considerable, as the Bill extends to 29 sections, some of them very long ones, and it has therefore been considered whether the time has not come completely to recast these two Acts. Upon the whole, however, it has been thought that there is no necessity for a wholesale revision, and that the amendments proposed, which can be dealt with by Council much more easily than a wholesale revision, will provide all that is necessary to enable the police administration of the city and suburbs to proceed smoothly for several years to come.

"The Bill commences by introducing a number of definitions, many of which illustrate what I have said about the changes which have taken place. For instance, the only explosive of which the old Act took cognisance was gunpowder. Since 1866 a multitude of new explosives has been invented, and whatever restrictions were necessary in dealing with gunpowder ought necessarily to be extended to these. Places of public amusement and of entertainment have been greatly multiplied and need more careful definition. Similarly, many new kinds of vehicles are come into use. In certain matters it is desirable to bring the definitions into accord with those used in the Criminal Procedure Code.

"Clause 6 of the Bill deals with police officers engaging in trade or other occupations. These matters were formerly dealt with by departmental rules, but it is obviously desirable that they should be forbidden by law.

"Clause 11 deals with a kind of offence which has no doubt increased with the commercial development of the city, and has recently given a great deal of trouble—that, namely, of the petty pilfering of goods lying at docks, wharves and railway stations, and their sale to a class of persons known as chutkiwallas who principally live by receiving such articles. This provision has been approved practically unanimously by the public bodies which represent the commerce of the city.

"One of the most important portions of the Bill is clause 14, which comprises the sections which deal with assemblies and processions, with the control of persons who carry baggage about the river, with the lighting of vehicles and with passage through streets of unwieldy articles which interfere with the general traffic. These changes are necessitated by the enormously increased business and traffic of Calcutta. Another clause which affects the public convenience in a small but not unimportant matter is No. 17, which restores an old provision for dealing with obstructions in the public thoroughfares caused by setting up unauthorised shops or stalls.

"Clauses 18, 19 and 20, which substitute the provisions of the Bombay Act as regards arrest for the former section in the Calcutta Act, have the effect of making the law of arrest far more precise, and while in some particulars widening the power of the police and somewhat extending the range of offences for which they may arrest, protect the public by requiring due warning to be given.

"Other provisions deal with the recovery of persons believed to be unlawfully confined, with improving the system of communication between police officers in Calcutta and those in the districts in respect of the issue of search-warrants and for dealing with unclaimed property, principally with a view to petty intestate estates which are believed to be very generally the object of plunder.

"I have troubled the Council with these details with the object of drawing attention to the fact that the Bill deals with a large number of matters, some of them petty and some very important, which are frequently the subject of complaint in Calcutta, and that it will tend to the public convenience in these respects, and I believe that when it comes to be examined in Select Committee, it will be found that, generally speaking, the new provisions are likely to be a considerable improvement upon those which they replace."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Mr. Duke introduced the Bill and moved that it be read in Council.

He also moved that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Sir Charles Allen, the Hon'ble Mr. Chapman, the Hon'ble Mr. Halliday, the Hon'ble Sir Bijay Mahtab, Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan, the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, the Hon'ble Babu Radha Charan Pal and the Mover.

The motions were put and agreed to.

THE SAMBALPUR (DELEGATION) BILL, 1909.

The Hon'ble Mr. SLACKE moved for leave to introduce a Bill to authorize the delegation to the Board of Revenue of functions of the Government of Bengal under enactments in force in the district of Sambalpur. He said:—

"The reasons for introducing the Bill will be found in the Statement of Objects and Reasons. The Hon'ble Members will note that it is not proposed to make any delegations except with the previous sanction of the Government of India"

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Mr. SLACKE introduced the Bill and moved that it be read in Council.

The motion was put and agreed to, and the Secretary accordingly read the title of the Bill.

The Council was then adjourned to the 24th July, 1909.

AUSTRALIA AND TASMANIA.

Caution when approaching Australian ports.

No. 263 (second publication).—The President of the Marine Board, Port Adelaide, has given Notice (No. 11 of 1909), that in connection with periodical exercises or manœuvres, or in the event of relations becoming strained between Great Britain and any naval power, an Examination Service may come into force at the ports or localities mentioned at the end of this notice.

Masters are warned that before attempting to enter any of these ports they must, in their own interests, strictly obey all instructions given to them by the vessels which will be charged with the duty of examining ships desiring to enter the ports, and allotting positions in which the ships shall anchor. In case of fog they should on no account attempt to enter before receiving permission from the Examination Officer.

The institution of an Examination Service at any port will never be publicly advertised, but at all times when the relations of Great Britain with foreign powers are known to be in a state of tension, especial care should be taken in approaching the ports, by day or by night, to keep a sharp lookout for the Examination Steamer, and to be ready to "bring to" at once when hailed by her or warned by the firing of a gun.

If the entrance to a port is closed, three Red Vertical Lights by night or three Red Balls by day will be exhibited in some conspicuous position in or near to its approach, and as far as possible notice of this fact will be given by lookout vessels in the offing.

If the Examination Service is in force, the Examination Steamer will be distinguished at night—

(a) When the port is closed, by three Red Vertical Lights;

(b) When the port is open, by three White Vertical Lights.

The Pilots attached to the ports will be acquainted with the regulations to be followed.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT ON THE REFORMATORY SCHOOLS AT ALIPORE AND HAZARIBAGH FOR THE YEAR 1908.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—EDUCATION.

Darjeeling, the 8th July 1909.

RESOLUTION—No. 1427T.—G.

READ—

The Annual Report on the Reformatory Schools at Alipore and Hazaribagh for the year 1908.

During the year the amalgamation of the two Reformatory Schools which had long been under the consideration of Government became an accomplished fact. The buildings at Alipore were altogether unsuitable for the purpose of a Reformatory School. The accommodation was insufficient, and it was estimated that the alterations would cost three lakhs. The existing building moreover was urgently required by the Jail Department for use as a prison for juvenile offenders. There had been considerable discussion as to the site of the amalgamated school, but it was finally decided to locate it for the present in the Hazaribagh School. The sanction of the Government of India was accorded in February 1908 to the closing of the Alipore School and the transfer of its inmates to Hazaribagh; and Mr. G. A. Davis, Superintendent of Jail Manufactures, was then placed on special duty to work out a detailed scheme for the amalgamation of the schools. The first batch of boys was despatched from Alipore on the 29th July, and the last batch left on the 13th September. To accommodate the increased population, the groundfloor of three blocks in the Hazaribagh School was converted into dormitories. The school buildings, exclusive of the hospital, can now accommodate 416 boys. The arrangements for sanitation and water-supply were by no means satisfactory when the amalgamation was effected, but steps have since been taken to remedy the defects. Mr. Davis remained on special duty in connection with the amalgamated school till the end of the year.

2. The number of boys admitted to the schools, which had risen from 95 in 1905 to 144 in the following year and 146 in 1907, fell to 125 in the year under review. As usual, the case of each boy admitted was scrutinized by the Board of Management, with a view to considering whether the provisions of the law for the release of youthful offenders might not suitably be applied to the case. As a result 22 boys were released on the recommendation of the Boards. Six hundred and eighty-three youthful offenders were released by the Courts on probation under section 562 of the Criminal Procedure Code, as compared with 396 in 1907 and 282 in 1906. The Lieutenant-Governor notes with satisfaction the steady increase in the use that is made of this section. Forty-four boys were discharged after admonition, or made over to guardians, under section 31 of the Reformatory Schools Act, as against 45 in the preceding year.

3. The health of the boys was on the whole satisfactory. The total number admitted to hospital was 199, as compared with 232 in the two schools in 1907. Only two deaths occurred among a daily average population of 391. Malarial fever and eye diseases were prevalent at Hazaribagh, and two cases of cholera also occurred while the disease was raging in the neighbourhood. Both patients recovered. The general discipline of the boys was excellent. Fifty seven boys were punished in the two schools as against 113 in the preceding year; while whipping, which was awarded as a punishment five times in 1907, was not inflicted in any case during the year under review.

4. Reading, writing, and arithmetic were formerly taught for three hours daily,—up to the Lower Primary standard at Alipore, and to the Upper Primary standard at Hazaribagh. Advantage was taken of the opportunity afforded by the amalgamation to introduce a new system. The boys are now classified in three groups. Those under 14 years of age receive instruction up to the Lower Primary standard for three hours in the morning, and those between 14 and 16 years for three hours in the afternoon. Boys over 16 years of age are exempted from attendance at school, and spend the entire working hours of the day at the industries which they are learning. The object of this innovation is to accustom the boys to some extent to the hours of work which they will experience after their discharge. The results of the annual examination were on the whole satisfactory. Sixty-eight boys studied up to the Lower Primary standard; 23 of these were discharged before the examination; and, of the 45 who appeared, 17 passed in the first division, and 16 in the second. Two hundred and forty-four boys appeared at the junior class examinations, of whom 56 passed in the first and 57 in the second division. Examinations were also held in agriculture and in the industries in which the boys are trained, with the satisfactory result that out of 240 boys who appeared, 163, or 68 per cent., passed successfully.

5. In pursuance of the policy of giving the institution the character of a school rather than of a jail, the boys are encouraged to interest themselves in physical drill, gymnastics, and athletics generally. Athletic sports are held annually, at which prizes are awarded. The school band, which practises for three hours a day, has proved a strong incentive to good order, and has exercised a remarkable humanising influence. A certain period is devoted daily to physical drill and gymnastics, while fire drill and classes for instruction in first aid to the injured are regularly held.

6. During the three years up to 1907, 336 boys were released from the two schools. Fifty one of these boys were untraced. Of the remainder, 219 were found to be leading honest lives; while 54 have been again convicted, 4 are reported to be of bad character, and 8 have died. Out of 125 boys who were taught agriculture, 75 are following that occupation. Two hundred and eleven boys were taught various trades and handicrafts; but only 69 of them are pursuing the occupation in which they received instruction. The proportion, however, has gradually risen since 1904 from one in four to one in three. The best means of maintaining supervision over discharged boys is a subject which has for some time engaged the attention of Government. Towards the close of the year two experienced officers of the Education Department were appointed as Special Deputy Inspectors of Schools to visit discharged boys. Their duties are (1) to make themselves acquainted with the past history of discharged and licensed boys; (2) to visit such boys in a friendly way as often as possible; and (3) to help the regular officers of the Education Department in maintaining watch over released boys and in assisting them to obtain employment. A scheme by which regular allowances and gratuities will be paid, for three years after their release, to boys who behaved well while in the school and who continue to lead honest lives, was sanctioned during the year, and has since come into force.

7. His Honour desires to thank Mr. Davis for the zeal and ability with which he carried out the task of amalgamating the two schools.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

J. G. CUMMING,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE SANITARY COMMISSIONER, BENGAL, FOR THE YEAR 1908.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—SANITATION.

Darjeeling, the 8th July 1909.

RESOLUTION—No. 637T.—San.

The Report of the Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, for the year 1908.

The Report on Vaccination in Bengal for the year 1908-09.

Lieutenant-Colonel F. C. Clarkson, I.M.S., was in charge of the office of the Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, throughout the year.

2. Climatic conditions.—The rainfall during the monsoon period was below the normal throughout the province, especially in Bihar, and it was also irregularly distributed. It ceased much earlier than usual, and during the winter months, except for a few local showers, there was no general or adequate fall. The winter rice crop suffered severely in consequence.

3. Births and deaths.—The year 1907 showed an excess of both births and deaths as compared with that preceding it, but during the year under review while the ratio of deaths again increased, that of births showed a falling off in comparison with the figures for 1907. The number of births registered in the Province (exclusive of Angul) was 1,823,716, or 36·09 per mille of population, in comparison with 1,905,425, or 37·70 per mille, in the preceding year. In the opinion of the Sanitary Commissioner, the decrease in the number of births was due to the prevailing high prices of the principal food-grains, which reacted upon the vitality of the people. The early part of the year under review was also unusually unhealthy. The total number of deaths reported was 1,948,513, or 38·56 per mille, against 1,906,192, or 37·72 per mille of population, during 1907. The average of the preceding quinquennium was 1,795,532, or 35·53 per mille. As in the previous year, it is reported that, owing to the difficulty in obtaining the ordinary food-grains, the poorer classes had recourse to less suitable forms of food, with a consequent deterioration in their general standard of health, but the explanation is of too general a character to be of material value. In comparison with other provinces, Bengal stood below the Central Provinces, Punjab, United Provinces, Eastern Bengal and Assam, and the North-West Frontier Province in the matter of the recorded birth-rate, while only in the United Provinces and Punjab was a higher death-rate returned. Within the province, the most unhealthy divisions during the year were those of Orissa and Chota Nagpur, where cholera prevailed extensively. The Sanitary Commissioner brings to notice that, while the figures for the seven years 1902—1908, excluding mortality from plague, show that the public health in towns has always been better than in rural areas, this difference in favour of the urban death-rate has been increasingly marked during the last four years, a result which is attributed to the better sanitary arrangements obtaining in towns. It is admitted that the progress in urban sanitation is slow, but it is claimed that it is very perceptible. Contrary to the usual experience, the greatest unhealthiness prevailed in the first seven months of the year, and not, as ordinarily, in the last quarter. Colonel Clarkson attributes this result to the excessive prevalence of cholera in the early part of the year, induced by bad food and water, while to the destruction of mosquito larvæ during the abnormally dry months preceding the monsoon, is ascribed the decreased severity of fever during the latter portion of the year.

4. The experiment for testing the accuracy of the registration of vital statistics, which was started in 1906 in parts of the Burdwan district, was continued throughout the year under report, with the result that, out of 2,616 deaths recorded in the area under examination, the cause of the death in no less than 1,036 cases was found to have been wrongly described, especially under the head of "Fever." In respect of the numerial accuracy of registration which, as usual, was checked by vaccination officers, the Lieutenant-Governor regrets to observe the bad results reported from Saran, the Sonthal Parganas, Hazaribagh, Muzaffarpur and Purnea, and the District Officers concerned are requested to give the matter their particular attention.

5. Cholera.—The mortality from this disease was the highest ever recorded. The total number of deaths registered was 268,908, or 5·32 per mille in comparison with 205,702 deaths during the preceding year, which, in its turn, showed the highest death-rate returned since 1901. The climatic conditions of the year affected the sufficiency of the supply of drinking water, and to this fact, as also to the use of unwholesome food, the regrettable incidence of the disease is attributed. Only six thanas in the whole province were free from the disease. It prevailed with unusual virulence in Balasore and Puri, where the ratio of mortality was as high as 26·20 and 14·41 per mille, respectively, and the prevalence of the disease in epidemic form in Orissa was characteristic of the preceding year also. Only in the district of Darjeeling was the rate of mortality below 1 per mille.

6. Small-pox and vaccination.—In view of the steady increase in the mortality from small pox, which amounted during the year to 35,966, or nearly double the average of the five years 1903—1907, viz., 18,750, it is satisfactory to note that vaccination continued to make progress. The total number of operations performed during the year 1908-09 in the whole province, excluding the Tributary State of Pal Lahera in the Orissa Division, was 2,241,576, of which 304,707 were re-vaccinations, against 2,058,371 original cases and 190,081 re-vaccinations during 1907-08. The spread of vaccination depends largely upon its encourgement by the local officers, and the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to notice instances of co-operation on the part of zamindars and panchayats, the name of Rai Mani Lall Singh Roy Bahadur of Chakdighi, in Burdwan, being particularly mentioned. The appointment of a special inspector in Orissa led to a satisfactory increase in the number of operations performed. A severe outbreak of small-pox occurred in Calcutta during the cold weather, and as a result, 82,079 persons submitted to vaccination, as compared with 31,155 during preceding year.

7. In the present returns the total number of persons vaccinated corresponds with the total number of vaccinations, as all operations which were repeated were entered as one and the same case after their results were known. The orders of the Government of India that repetitions should be shown in future as separate operations will be followed with effect from the current year. The Sanitary Commissioner points out that the result will be to increase the apparent percentage of failures.

8. Plague.—It is satisfactory to note that the mortality from plague was the lowest on record since 1901. Only 15,948 persons fell victims to the disease during the year, against 83,602 such deaths during 1907. More than two-thirds of the deaths occurred in the Patna Division, and while Calcutta returned the highest rate (2·09), this is less than half that recorded in 1907. Thirteen districts were free from the disease. The epidemic followed its usual course, reaching its climax in March, when more than one-third of the total deaths took place. Altogether 5,753 plague inoculations were performed, of which 3,048 were in Calcutta and 2,200 in Bhagalpur. There is little evidence in support of the hope expressed last year that popular prejudice on the subject is weakening. The only preventive measure received with any favour was the evacuation of infected dwellings. Chemical disinfection was resorted to in a few special cases only at the instance of the people themselves. Itinerant medical subordinates were employed in the districts of Patna, Muzaffarpur and Darbhanga for the treatment of plague cases and the supervision of preventive measures. Rat destruction was carried on with more or less vigor in almost all the districts in Bihar, noticeably in Monghyr and Saran, but the system of the payment of rewards for dead rats is being gradually discontinued, the work being done by organised staffs. Traps were chiefly used to catch these vermin, the use of poison, particularly in Shahabad, being objected to by the people. The Civil Surgeon of Saran (Major Gwyther), in which district rat-killing operations have perhaps had the most systematic trial, gives it as his opinion that they have made no appreciable difference in the numbers of these animals.

9. Fever.—The number of deaths registered under this head was 1,184,704, as compared with 1,171,540 in the previous year, and 1,122,397, the average of the five years 1903—1907, the ratios being 23·44, 23·18, and 22·21 per mille, respectively. The mortality returned under the head of "Fever," though doubtless due in great part to causes other than malaria, represents no less than 60·80 per cent. of the total mortality in the province from all causes. The worst affected district was Palamau with 40·19 deaths per mille, and it is noticeable that in the first eight districts which returned the highest mortality from this cause, occur the names of Palamau, Hazaribagh, Birbhum, Gaya, the Sonthal Parganas and Singhbhum, none of which can be described as water-logged. The Sanitary Commissioner apprehends that the deficiency in the rainfall necessary to scour away the accumulated surface impurities, affected prejudically the health of these tracts, but the explanation seems at variance with the ordinarily accepted mosquito theory, while the unusual dryness of the year is adduced in the case of the districts of Murshidabad, Nadia, Jessore and Purnea as having contributed to an improvement in the public health. Among towns, Sahibganj in the Sonthal Parganas was the chief sufferer from fever, and returned a mortality of 36·51 per mille. Anti-malarial measures were continued in the town of Ranaghat in Nadia, and in one ward of the North Barrackpore Municipality in the district of the 24-Parganas. It has been decided to discontinue further operations at Ranaghat pending the preparation of a drainage scheme for the town.

10. In pursuance of the policy of conducting systematic investigations into the prevalence of fever, a special enquiry was made by Captain W. C. H. Foster, I.M.S., with the assistance of two Assistant Surgeons and six Civil Hospital Assistants into the circumstances of the most malarious thanas in the Purnea and Murshidabad districts. His report is now under the consideration of Government. Notwithstanding the unfavourable conditions of the year, there was a considerable decrease in the sale of pice-packets of quinine, which fell to 18,307 parcels as compared with 22,497 sold during 1907. Measures have recently been taken which, it is hoped, will further extend and popularise the use of the drug, as the result of a reduction in its price and its issue not only in the form of powder, but also, and chiefly, in small tablets.

11. Dysentery and diarrhœa.—There was a noticeable increase in the mortality from this cause as compared with the previous year, the number of deaths recorded being 64,899 against 51,670 in 1907, 48,920 in 1906, and 47,441, the average of the five years 1903—1907. The causes operative in the case of cholera affected the figures under these heads also. The Orissa Division again showed the highest mortality, and the death-rate there was nearly double that of 1907, viz., 6·68 per mille in comparison with 3·75. Chota Nagpur stands next with a death-rate of 1·15, followed by Bengal (·92) and Bihar (·47).

12. Respiratory diseases.—The number of deaths from these complaints was approximately equal to that returned in the previous year. Altogether 15,399 persons succumbed, against 15,039 and 12,825 in the two preceding years, and 10,886, the average of the five years 1903—1907, the corresponding ratios being ·30, ·29, ·25 and ·21 per mille, respectively. Owing to the existing difficulties of diagnosis, the statistics will probably show a progressive increase as the system of reporting improves.

13. Injury.—Slightly fewer deaths were recorded under this head than in 1907, the ratio per mille being ·49 as compared with ·50 in 1907. Deaths from snake-bite fell from 9,215 during the previous year to 8,789, and it is claimed that good results were obtained by the use of permanganate of potash. It is, however, open to considerable question whether the percentage of true successes was as high as claimed. An endeavour was made by Mr. Collins, Subdivisional Officer of Gopalganj, to instruct the village hajāms in this method of treatment, and it is stated that much interest was shown in the experiment.

14. Sanitary improvements.—It is so far satisfactory that the total expenditure by municipalities under the heads of "Drainage," "water-supply" and

"Conservancy," which amounted to Rs. 16,59,453 in 1901-02, and Rs. 17,51,202 in 1902-03, rose to Rs. 19,37,439 in 1906-07, and Rs. 19,48,823 in 1907-08, but the rate of progress achieved in comparison with what remains to be done is still slow, and although schemes are prepared, considerable difficulty is experienced in carrying them into effect, due chiefly to the want of funds. While the Lieutenant-Governor is anxious, in proportion to the means available, to supplement the local resources, where any well-considered sanitary project is beyond their power, it should be clearly understood that the major portion of the expenditure must be met by local effort, and if the ordinary sources of revenue are insufficient, by the raising of loans or recourse to private liberality. It is unfair to the general tax-payer, and prevents the recognition of other claims, if, as has been proposed in some schemes which have come before Government, they are financed for the greater part from general revenues.

15. The Sanitary Commissioner instances the cases of Howrah, the Suburban area in Calcutta and Berhampur, as illustrating the need of efficient drainage concurrently with the introduction of a filtered water-supply. In the absence of proper drains it may not be possible to dispose of the waste water brought into the towns, and increased mortality from fever may result. The working of the various septic tanks which have now been constructed in different localities, particularly in the mills along the banks of the Hooghly, has received special attention, and an inspector has recently been appointed to inspect the installations, with particular reference to their size and construction, and the proper sterilisation of the effluents from them.

16. Sanitary Board.—Sir Edward Baker regrets to notice the death, while on leave in England, of Mr. A. E. Silk, M.I.C.E., F.R.S.I., late Sanitary Engineer, Bengal, in whom Government has lost a valuable officer. During the year the Board prepared preliminary estimates for water-works in the Hooghly-Chinsura and Daltonganj Municipalities, and detailed estimates for water-works at Gaya. Six drainage schemes (for the towns of Burdwan, Khulna, Serampore, Arrah, Howrah and Darjeeling, respectively), and two projects for the construction of water-works at Puri and Murshidabad were considered by the Board. Complaints have been made of delays in the consideration of schemes in the office of the Sanitary Engineer, as also of the unnecessarily voluminous details compiled in connection with them. Time and money are also wasted by the preliminary preparation of projects by local authorities on ill-considered lines, which have subsequently to be reconsidered. The Lieutenant-Governor would be glad if the question were examined by the Board with particular reference to the possibility of ensuring efficient supervision at the initial stages of a scheme, in order that the proposals may be framed from the outset upon a satisfactory basis. Provided that the local authorities were willing to undertake the subsequent execution of a scheme, Government assistance might suitably be given them in ascertaining their requirements and how they can best be met.

17. The Lieutenant-Governor's thanks are due to Lieutenant-Colonel Clarkson and his subordinates for their administration of the department.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. WHEELER,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

MONTHLY WEATHER AND CROP REPORT OF BENGAL FOR JUNE 1909.

Character of the Season.—The rainfall during the month was general throughout the Province. It was in excess of the normal in all districts excepting Bankura, where the fall was about the average. The usual rainfall table is appended.

II.—Progress of Agricultural Operations.—The heavy rain received during the early portion of the month temporarily retarded agricultural operations in Burdwn, Bankura, Champaran, Purnea and the Sonthal Parganas, but the agricultural outlook improved later on when the rainfall facilitated ploughing and sowing operations. Sowings were in progress and weeding of jute and autumn paddy continued during the month.

III.—State of standing crops.—Jute, sugarcane, autumn paddy and other standing crops were greatly benefited by the rainfall, and prospects are reported to be favourable. Towards the latter part of the month, however, prospects of standing crops on low lands in Purnea and of jute in Darjeeling deteriorated owing to excess of rain.

IV.—Prospects of probable outturn of harvests.—The prospects of sugarcane, jute and other autumn crops are so far good.

V.—Damage to crops.—Some damage to standing crops by insect pests was reported from Nadia and Jessore. Floods did some injury to jute, sugarcane, til and autumn paddy in the Kandi subdivision of Murshidabad and to maize and mung in Purnea.

VI.—Condition of Agricultural Stock.—The condition of cattle is generally fair. Rinderpest was prevalent in parts of Nadia and Sambalpur. Ordinary cattle-diseases were reported from Burdwan, Midnapore, Jessore, Patna, Gaya, Muzaffarpur, Monghyr, Purnea, the Sonthal Parganas, Angul, Puri, Ranchi, Palamau and Manbhum.

VII.—Failure of pasturage and fodder.—The fodder and water supply is sufficient throughout the Province.

VIII.—Price of food-grains.—During the second fortnight of the month, the price of common rice rose in nine districts: and fell in four districts and was stationary in the remainder. It varied from six seers per rupee in Darjeeling to 15 seers in Angul. Prices of staple food-grains were easier than in the corresponding period of last year.

IX.—Condition of labouring classes and agricultural populations.—The rainfall of the month provided work for agricultural labourers, and the condition in the affected tracts has improved. The test-works in Muzaffarpur were closed, and very few persons attended the works in Bhagalpur. The number of persons on famine relief in Darbhanga fell considerably towards the end of the month. Gratuitous relief is still being given in Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga, Bhagalpur and Palamau.

GENERAL SUMMARY.—Rain fell in all districts except Patna and Gaya. The fall was moderate in Champaran and Sambalpur; elsewhere light. In North Bihar, the break in the rains has been beneficial to the standing crops and sowings, but more rain is wanted in South-West Bengal and Chota Nagpur for transplantation of winter rice. It is reported that progress is being retarded in parts of Burdwan, Bankura and Manbhum owing to want of moisture. Sowings of kharif crops continue. Sugarcane, jute and other standing crops are doing well. Floods have done some damage to jute in the Kishanganj subdivision of Purnea. The crop in Pakour in the Sonthal Parganas has also suffered from excessive rain. The price of common rice has risen in Midnaporo, Saran, Champaran Bhagalpur and Hazaribagh and has fallen in Nadia. Cattle-disease is reported from Burdwan, Nadia, Jessore, Patna, Gaya, Saran, Muzaffarpur, Monghyr, Purnea, the Sonthal Parganas, Sambalpur, Ranchi and Palamau. The fodder and water-supply is sufficient throughout the Province 2,231 persons attended famine relief works in Darbhanga. Gratuitous relief was given to 29,092 persons in Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga and Palamau.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL AND IN EASTERN BENGAL AND ASSAM FOR THE MONTH OF MAY 1909.

A DEPRESSION in north-west India, outside the reporting area, caused a considerable reduction of pressure in Bihar during the first two days of the month, and was probably responsible for high winds and squally weather at the head of the Bay. It gave no rain. During the first week rainfall was practically confined to Assam.

At the beginning of the second week westerly winds were prevalent in Bihar, and caused unusually dry weather throughout that Division.

On the 15th there was local rain in Eastern Bengal and Bengal, while dust-storms and nor' westers were experienced at many stations. An indraught of moist air from the Bay, with a well-marked westerly tendency, maintained its direction for several days, and eventually gave rise to fairly general rain over the two Provinces.

On the 21st rainfall had extended into Northern Bihar, but by the middle of the third week it had practically ceased, except for a few local showers in Eastern Bengal and Assam. During the last week there was a rise in temperature in the northern and north-eastern portions of the reporting area; the thermometer remained slightly above normal over that area until the end of the month.

The total rainfall for the month was in defect by 50 per cent. in Chota Nagpur and Bihar, and by 15 per cent. in Assam. The amount of cloud developed was considerably below normal. Temperature and humidity did not depart seriously from their average values.

Summary of temperature.—The highest temperature recorded was 112·3° at Dehri, and the lowest (64°) was recorded at Dinajpur.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the Provinces of Eastern Bengal and Assam and of Bengal for the month of May 1909:—

Summary of rainfall.—The rainfall work of the Province has been placed in the hands of the Director of Agriculture, Bengal, and the usual data regarding the actual and normal rainfall during the month are published by that officer. A short table, however, is attached to this report, giving the rainfall recorded during the month at the head-quarters of the various districts of the Province.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. The rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

MEASURES FOR AMELIORATING THE POSITION OF INDIAN STUDENTS IN ENGLAND.

Nos. 556—569.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

HOME DEPARTMENT.

EDUCATION.

Simla, the 1st July 1909.

RESOLUTION.

IT has been frequently brought to the notice of the Secretary of State for India that Indian students on their first arrival in England experience difficulties by reason of their lack of information as to educational facilities and social conditions; and he has for some time had under consideration the possibility of rendering available for their use information and advice of the kind required. He has now, after consulting the Government of India, decided to establish a Bureau in London for the supply of information, as well as a Standing Committee for general advisory purposes. The Bureau and the Committee will work in close relation with one another, and the Head of the Bureau, who will be called the Educational Adviser to Indian Students, will also act as Secretary to the Advisory Committee.

2. The functions of the Bureau will be to answer inquiries in regard to educational facilities, to keep a list of lodgings and boarding-houses suitable for Indian students and of private families willing to receive them on such terms as may be arranged, to furnish students with references, to bring to the notice of the Advisory Committee any cases in which the regulation of educational institutions bears hardly on Indian students, and generally to give all possible assistance either to students themselves or to their parents in India. The Bureau will be in close touch with the Board of Education, with its correspondents at the leading Universities, and with local Committees in India.

3. The Advisory Committee will be available for consultation by students or their parents, by the Educational Adviser, and by the Secretary of State, and will bring to the latter's notice any matter in regard to which it may desire to suggest action on his part for improving the position of Indian students. It will stand, as far as possible, in loco parentis to students whose parents are unable themselves to supervise their education. In particular, its members will be ready to assist students in social matters. It is hoped that in this way they may be able to do much towards removing any feeling of friendlessness, and towards providing for young Indians social opportunities which would not otherwise be open to them.

The following gentlemen have accepted the Secretary of State's invitation to serve on the Advisory Committee, of which Lord Ampthill has consented to act as Chairman:—

Sir M. M. Bhownaggree, K.C.I.E.
Saiyid Ameer Ali, C.I.E.
Major N. P. Sinha, I.M.S., retired.
Kamruddin Latif.
Theodore Morison, Esq., Member of the Council of India.
Pandit Bhagwandin Dubé, Barrister-at-law.
Lieutenant-Colonel Sir W. Curzon Wyllie, K.C.I.E., C.V.O., Political Aide-de-Camp to the Secretary of State.

4. The appointment of Educational Adviser to Indian Students has been accepted by Mr. T. W. Arnold, formerly of the Indian Educational Service, who has relinquished his post as Assistant Librarian at the India Office for the purpose. Mr. Arnold has taken up his duties, and the Bureau of information is temporarily located at the India Office until suitable premises can be obtained elsewhere.

5. The Governor-General in Council now desires to explain the measures which, after consulting Local Governments, he considers should be adopted in India with the object of supplementing the activities of the Central Bureau and the Advisory Committee in England. It is proposed to establish local Committees, consisting of representative European and Indian gentlemen, in each province, excepting Burma and the North-West Frontier Province. These Committees will be in direct communication with the Central Bureau in England. By means of this agency it is hoped that the Educational Adviser will be able to obtain all information regarding individual students which may be desired by the University or other authorities in England, and thus to meet the need which has made itself felt for detailed and trustworthy information as to the position, means and character of Indian applicants.

The Committees will be sufficiently large to be representative in character, and Local Governments will co-operate with the Universities in bringing them into existence. It is the intention that each Committee shall have among its members representative Indian gentlemen of good position and local reputation, enjoying the confidence of the educated classes of the province no less than of the Government. The Government of India consider that it will be advisable to appoint to the Committees a number of Indian gentlemen residing in the mufassal, who will take a personal interest in their work and will explain their objects and advantages throughout the area in which they exercise a local influence. The Provincial Committees will be constituted by the Local Governments and Administrations; and the Vice-Chancellor of the University and the Director of Public Instruction will be members where practicable. The functions of the Committees will be—

(1) To furnish information and advice to Indians who contemplate going to England.

(2) To circulate in India to colleges and other institutions the educational, financial and social information collected by the Central Bureau in London.

(3) To communicate with the Central Bureau on behalf of students before they start or on behalf of their parents when they are in England.

One of their minor duties will be to see that the handbook of information, which will be published by the Central Bureau, is kept up to date; and the latter will be asked to supply from time to time to the local Committees in India all information necessary to correct that given in the current issue of the book.

6. Local Governments and Administrations have generally accepted the above proposals, and it only remains now to give effect to the scheme. The Governor-General in Council desires therefore that steps may be taken as soon as possible to constitute the local Committees. The intention is that there shall be in each province a general Committee representing the province as a whole, and that, where necessary, there shall also be sub-committees at such local centres as may be convenient. The President and members of these Committees will be selected and appointed by the Local Governments. As stated above, these proposals will not for the present apply to Bu ma; and the North-West Frontier Province will be represented on the Punjab Provincial Committee by the officer in charge of education in the former province. The province of Coorg might similarly be represented on the Madras Committee. Native States, who so desire, will also be represented by the Political Officers of the States on the Committees at the head-quarters of their respective Universities.

7. There will be a paid Secretary to each Provincial Committee, who will be appointed by the Local Government. It has been stated by one Local Government that the services of a Secretary can be procured on an allowance of Rs. 60 per mensem. Such an arrangement may not be possible in every case, and the Government of India leave it to the discretion of Local Governments to fix the pay of this officer, subject to a maximum limit of Rs. 200 per mensem. The Provincial Committees, as soon as they are constituted, should place themselves in communication with the Educational Adviser to Indian Students, India Office, London.

AUSTRALIA AND TASMANIA.

Caution when approaching Australian ports.

No. 263 (third publication).—The President of the Marine Board, Port Adelaide, has given Notice (No. 11 of 1909), that in connection with periodical exercises or manœuvres, or in the event of relations becoming strained between Great Britain and any naval power, an Examination Service may come into force at the ports or localities mentioned at the end of this notice.

Masters are warned that before attempting to enter any of these ports they must, in their own interests, strictly obey all instructions given to them by the vessels which will be charged with the duty of examining ships desiring to enter the ports, and allotting positions in which the ships shall anchor. In case of fog they should on no account attempt to enter before receiving permission from the Examination Officer.

The institution of an Examination Service at any port will never be publicly advertised, but at all times when the relations of Great Britain with foreign powers are known to be in a state of tension, especial care should be taken in approaching the ports, by day or by night, to keep a sharp lookout for the Examination Steamer, and to be ready to "bring to" at once when hailed by her or warned by the firing of a gun.

If the entrance to a port is closed, three Red Vertical Lights by night or three Red Balls by day will be exhibited in some conspicuous position in or near to its approach, and as far as possible notice of this fact will be given by lookout vessels in the offing.

If the Examination Service is in force, the Examination Steamer will be distinguished at night—

(a) When the port is closed, by three Red Vertical Lights;

(b) When the port is open, by three White Vertical Lights.

The Pilots attached to the ports will be acquainted with the regulations to be followed.

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE INCOME-TAX DEPARTMENT IN BENGAL DURING THE YEAR 1908-1909.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 398S.R.—The 15th July 1909.—The following Resolution and Returns of the Board of Revenue, L. P., on the working of the Income-tax Department in Bengal for the year 1908-1909 are published for general information.

H. WHEELER,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

BOARD OF REVENUE, L. P.

MISCELLANEOUS REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

INCOME-TAX BRANCH.

RESOLUTION.

THE HON'BLE MR. W. C. MACPHERSON, C.S.I.

Dated Calcutta, the 6th July 1909.

THE statistical information regarding the Income-tax Department for the year 1908-1909 has been compiled with reference to the Government of India's Resolutions, Nos. 2316S.R., dated the 8th May 1901, and 83S.R., dated the 14th January 1903.

2. The receipts, charges and net revenue of the years 1907-1908 and 1908-1909 are compared below :—

Year.	Receipts.	Charges.	Percentage of charges.	Net revenue.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1908-1909 ...	56,50,644	1,72,236	3	54,78,408
1907-1908 ...	51,98,644	1,67,478	3·2	50,31,166

The net revenue showed an increase of 8·9 per cent., as compared with an increase of 7 per cent. in 1907-1908.

3. The total collections on account of tax during the year showed an increase of Rs. 4,25,681, or 8·5 per cent., over those of 1907-1908. The increase was obtained from all the four main classes of assessees, salaries (Part I) contributing Rs. 65,802, Companies (Part II) Rs. 2,77,415, securities (Part III) Rs. 16,366 and other sources (Part IV) Rs. 66,098, or 15·5, 65·2, 3·8 and 15·5 per cent. of the total increase, respectively. The increase under Part II is mainly due to the larger profits made by coal companies, but also to increased profits of the Banks and jute mills assessed in Calcutta.

The total number of assessees in the lowest class of Part IV (that is, those assessed on an income of Rs. 1,000 but less than Rs. 1,250 was 10,511, against 10,647 of the preceding year. The decrease was due to ordinary fluctuations, and no tendency on the part of the assessing staff to bring under assessment, without adequate investigation, those who were exempted on the raising of the taxable minimum in 1903, is indicated.

4. The final number of assessees and the final demand for the year 1908-1909 show an increase of 845 persons and Rs. 4,83,600, or 1·9 and 10·2 per cent., as compared with 4·6 and 7·9 per cent., respectively, during the previous year. Of these increases Calcutta contributed 253 persons and Rs. 3,97,072, or 29·9 and 82·1 per cent., respectively—a result which is mainly attributed to the increase in the assessment on the profits of certain limited companies explained in paragraph 3. Outside Calcutta the increase in the final demand was largest in the district of Burdwan, where it advanced from Rs. 1,07,503 during 1907-1908 to Rs. 1,49,706 during the year under report; this marked increase was due to the prosperity of the coal industry.

5. The percentage of collections on the final demand on account of tax for the year was 95·7, as compared with 96·8 during the year 1907-1908. In Bankura, Hooghly, Howrah, Jessore, Gaya, Saran, Puri and Palamau, the entire demand was collected during the year. The prescribed standard of 95 per cent. was attained in all other districts, except Burdwan, Bhagalpur and Hazaribagh where the percentages were 89·01, 86·7 and 89·7, respectively. The low percentage of collections in Burdwan was, however, due to the non-realization of the sum of Rs. 15,046, pending the disposal of an appeal filed before the Board. Excluding the above sum from the final demand, the percentage of collection in Burdwan reached the prescribed standard. The short percentage in Bhagalpur was due (1) to the widespread scarcity and high price of food-grains which has affected the business of many assessees; (2) non-payment of the tax within the year by several new assessees, including one paying Rs. 2,680 discovered and assessed during the last quarter of the year; and (3) non-realization of the amounts due from some of the higher class assessees whose objections had to be kept pending for production of accounts. The failure in attaining the prescribed standard in Hazaribagh is ascribed to the non-realization of the tax in pending objection cases and in those in which the whereabouts of the assessees were not traceable.

6. The total cost of assessment and collection during the year shows an increase of Rs. 4,758, or 2·8 per cent., in comparison with the previous year, owing chiefly to the entertainment of an extra assessor and his establishment for eight months in the Burdwan Division.

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE STAMP DEPARTMENT IN BENGAL DURING THE YEAR 1908-09.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 410S.R.—The 15th July 1909.—The following Resolution by the Board of Revenue, L. P., regarding the administration of the Stamp Department in Bengal during the year 1908-09, together with an abstract of the receipts and charges for the year, is published for general information.

H. WHEELER,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

BOARD OF REVENUE, L.P.

MISCELLANEOUS REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

STAMPS BRANCH.

RESOLUTION.

THE HON'BLE MR. W. C. MACPHERSON, C.S.I.

Dated Calcutta, the 9th July 1909.

THE annual statistics of the Stamp Department for the year 1908-09 have been compiled in the prescribed Statements I to VII.

2. The figures of general receipts and charges for the year 1908-09 obtained from the Accountant-General have not as yet been finally verified, and are, therefore, liable to subsequent adjustment.

3. The revenue collected under the Stamp and Court-fees Acts amounted to Rs. 1,51,29,000, against Rs. 1,51,18,275* in the preceding year, showing an increase of Rs. 10,725. The increase of revenue which was obtained occurred entirely in court-fee stamps, and there was a decrease in the revenue collected under the general Stamp Act. The figures adopted in the revised budget estimate for the year were Rs. 1,57,00,000; the difference appears to be mainly due to the inclusion in the estimate of the sale-proceeds of unified stamps which have not been shown in the departmental accounts, but for which credit to the amount of Rs. 4,70,000 will hereafter be allowed by the Accountant-General under orders of Government of India, Financial Department, No. 1662A., dated the 28th March 1906.

*Exclusive of Rs. 4,70,000 on account of sale-proceeds of unified stamps credited to non-postal revenues.

The total charges during the year amounted to Rs. 4,01,698; the increase of 8·5 per cent. over the figures of 1907-08, being under "District Establishment" and "Refunds."

4. The sale-proceeds of court-fee stamps, excluding stamps for copies, rose from Rs. 98,73,553 to Rs. 1,00,51,023, that is, by Rs. 1,77,470. The greater portion of the increase was contributed by the districts of Calcutta (Rs. 2,10,317), Khulna (Rs. 26,012), Jessore (Rs. 19,888), Murshidabad (Rs. 19,784), Cuttack (Rs. 15,784) and Hazaribagh (Rs. 14,491). The increase in Calcutta is attributed mainly to the payment of high succession duties in the case of certain large estates. The increase in the other districts was due to increase in the number and value of suits.

The largest decrease Rs. 55,714, which occurred in Purnea, is mainly due to the conclusion of survey and settlement operations in that district. Muzaffarpur, Saran and Shahabad showed a decrease of Rs. 26,209, Rs. 26,644 and Rs. 24,509 respectively. The decrease in Muzaffarpur is attributed to the institution of fewer civil suits on account of the formation of a separate judgeship in Darbhanga. The decrease in Saran is ascribed to the falling off in the number of civil suits instituted on account of scarcity. The decrease in Shahabad is due to the decrease in the number and value of original suits and appeals.

5. There was a net decrease of Rs. 71,096 in the receipts from the sale of non-judicial stamps, due to the decline in receipts under the heads of hundis or inland bills of exchange, foreign bill stamps, share transfer stamps and notarial stamps. In Calcutta there was a marked falling off of revenue amounting to Rs. 2,20,274, in comparison with the figures for the previous year. The decrease is due to a general stagnation in trade and to agricultural depression. The revenue derived from the sale of impressed stamps amounted to Rs. 25,49,818 in comparison with Rs. 24,82,943 in the preceding year. The increase in the number of deeds executed, which gave this increase of revenue, is ascribed to failure of harvests and the higher prices of food-grains. The receipts from the sale of impressed labels, which are used only in Calcutta, amounted to Rs. 11,19,948 against Rs. 11,17,810. The increase is attributed to the execution of a large number of mining leases. The receipts from the sale of share transfer stamps, which are practically confined to Calcutta, showed a decrease of Rs. 72,429. This is attributable to a decrease of speculation in coal shares. There was a decrease of Rs. 71,252 under the head "Miscellaneous Receipts" as compared with the previous year. The decrease was mainly in Calcutta and is due to the fact that Rs. 1,19,000, representing the duty on the Port Trust Debentures floated in the years 1900, 1903, 1905, 1906 and 1907, was realised in a consolidated form in the preceding year.

6. Two thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven vendors were licensed to sell judicial and non-judicial stamps during the year, or thirteen more than in the previous year. The largest increase (44) occurred in Midnapore. In Calcutta the number of vendors decreased by 4; and the reduction is attributed to the discontinuance of discount on postage stamps, as noticed in the preceding year's report. The discount allowed during the year exceeded that of the preceding year by Rs. 993 in consequence of increased sales.

7. The total number of cases in which deficient duty and penalty were levied by the Courts during the year shows an increase of 628, and there was an increase of Rs. 3,873 in the duty and penalty realised in comparison with the realisations of the preceding year. There was an increase of 539 in the number of cases decided and of Rs. 33,331 in the duty and penalty realised by Revenue Officers as compared with the figures of the previous year. The increase in the amount of duty and penalty occurred mainly in Calcutta, where it was due to the payment of large stamp duty on leases, assignments and sub-leases effected for coal lands. The rents, royalties and salamies which formed the consideration for these transactions were very large. The increase of cases in Hooghly and Murshidabad was due to the greater vigilance of Courts in detecting unstamped or insufficiently stamped documents.

8. The number of cases instituted for the infringement of the provisions of the Stamp Act was 2,186, in which 2,195 persons were tried or proceeded against, as compared with 567 cases and 579 persons in the preceding year. The fines imposed, including composition money, amounted to Rs. 9,562 against Rs. 4,429. In Calcutta there was a marked increase in the number of cases instituted and the amount of composition money levied as compared with the previous year. The increase was partly due to proceedings taken against certain Marwari bankers whose files contained a large number of unstamped documents. The imprisonment of an informer in 1907-08, on a charge of extortion, is said to have scared others and, in some measure, to have caused the decrease in prosecutions in 1907-08. All the Calcutta cases were compounded in the Collector's office and none was taken to a Magistrate.

The amount distributed in rewards was Rs. 8,081, against Rs. 4,351 in the preceding year. The number of persons convicted was 2,180, and the average fine imposed was a little more than Rs. 4. The amount disbursed in rewards in Calcutta amounted to Rs. 7,400, against Rs. 4,309 in the preceding year. The increase in the payment of rewards was due to the greater number of cases instituted. In Purnea the whole amount of the reward (Rs. 511) was paid to the ministerial officers who were instrumental in the detection of the cases in which criminal prosecutions were instituted.

9. Of the cases of the valuation of estates for the issue of probates or letters of administration reported during the year, 79·5 per cent. were enquired into. The corresponding percentage of the previous year was 70·2. The proportion borne by the deficit court-fees realised to the amount originally paid was 9·3 per cent., as compared with 6·4 per cent. in the previous year.

PRELIMINARY FORECAST OF THE JUTE CROP OF BENGAL, 1909.

The following note is published for general information.

C. G. H. Allen,
Offg. Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The 17th July 1909.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Preliminary Forecast of the Jute Crop of Bengal, 1909.

[On an average of the five years ending 1906-07, the area under jute in the territory to which the Bengal forecast relates has represented 19·2 per cent. of the total area under jute in British India.]

In accordance with the orders of Government, this forecast deals only with the estimated area sown. It gives also a general survey of prospects, but without any reference to the probable outturn either in percentage figures or in bales. The information upon which the forecast has been framed was submitted by the Collectors of the different districts between the 4th and the 7th of July. The information, therefore, refers to the area sown before the end of June and no account has been taken of the effect of climatic conditions on the crop since that date.

2. Acreage.—The estimated area sown during the current and four preceding years is given below:—

	Acres.
1905	569,300
1906	780,400
1907	931,200
1908	548,700
1909	512,800

In addition, there was an area of 22,000 acres in 1908 in the State of Cooch Behar: the area sown this year is estimated at 20,000 acres.

The local officers ascribe the decrease in the area sown in Purnea to the high price of rice and the fall in the price of jute.

3. Weather conditions.—Purnea is the most important jute-growing district in Bengal. It produces one-third of the crop. The other important districts are Hooghly, Howrah, the 24-Parganas, Nadia, Murshidabad and Jessore. The weather conditions were generally favourable in those districts.

Although March was very dry; copious showers fell in April, the fall being much in excess of the normal. May was also showery, but the fall was slightly below the average. In the beginning of June, there was a heavy rainfall and some damage was caused to the crop in Purnea and in parts of Murshidabad, Cooch Behar and Darjeeling. The season has been favourable for sowings, but the cultivation of the crop has not expanded, probably owing to the low prices.

Below is the usual statement of the rainfall in the seven principal jute-growing districts from March to June for the current and the four years preceding :—

Burdwan—concld.	Hooghly ...	761,210	445,900	51,900	52,400	Very little	Not cadastrally surveyed			Latter part of April to the middle of May.	The rainfall was favourable for the crop. The crop is now good. Sowings were normal. Sowings have been completed. The crop is expected to be a normal one and better than that of last year. The increase in the area sown is due to seasonable rain and to favourable weather.
	Howrah ...	326,400	250,600	33,900	33,800	...	...	...	...	Second week of May at the Sadar sub-division and the first week at Uluberia.	There was little rain in the beginning of the season, but heavy rain followed. The condition of the crop in the Sadar subdivision is reported to be on the whole good, while at Uluberia it is fair. The date of sowing was early in the Sadar subdivision and normal in the Uluberia subdivision. Sowings have been completed. The crop is expected to be slightly better than that of last year. There is a falling off in the area sown in the Uluberia subdivision.
	24-Parganas ...	3,109,533	1,638,700	55,100	80,000	Very little	...	...	...	Middle of April.	The rainfall was generally favourable. The present condition of the crop is good, except in the Basirhat and Barasat subdivisions, where it is fair. Sowings were normal. They have been completed. The crop is expected to be better than that of last year.

PRESIDENCY	Nadia ...	1,787,520	1,046,800	43,900	36,100	Little ...	Not cadastrally surveyed.			Middle of April.	The rainfall has been favourable. The condition of the crop is good. Sowings have been normal. They have been completed. The crop is expected to be better than the normal and that of last year. The decrease in the area sown is due to the prevailing low prices of jute and high prices of paddy.
	Murshidabad ...	1,371,520	985,500	30,100	16,000	Little ...	...	...	...	April and May.	The weather and rainfall have been favourable. The crop is good at present. Sowings were normal. They have been completed. The crop of this year is expected to be better than that of last year. The decrease in the area sown is due to the fall in prices.
	Jessore ...	1,872,153	1,191,000	49,800	48,700	Little ...	...	...	...	April ...	The rainfall was favourable. The crop is good at present. Sowings were normal and they have been completed. The crop of this year is expected to be better than that of last year.
	Khulna ...	3,048,016	870,000	16,700	16,200	Some ...	130,766	1903-04 to 1907-08.	8,727	1st May ...	The rainfall was favourable in the Sadar and Satkhira subdivisions, but unfavourable in the Bagerhat subdivision. The present condition of the crop appears to be fair. Sowings were normal this year. They have been completed. The crop of this year is expected to be better than that of last year. The decrease in the area sown this year is due to the fall in the price of jute and to the rise in that of paddy.
TIRHUT ...	Champaran ...	2,259,840	1,447,600	2,000	1,500	Little ...	2,259,840	1892 to 1899.	606	March ...	The rainfall was favourable. The condition of the crop is good at present. Sowings were a little late for want of rain in February and March. Sowings have been completed. The crop is expected to be normal. The decrease in the area sown is due to many indigo factories having given up experimental cultivation on account of the fall in price and low outturn in previous years owing to drought.

Division.	District.	Total area of the district.	Estimated total area under cultivation.	Approximate area sown last year (1908).	Estimated area sown this year (1909). Tirhut—concluded.	Muzaffarpur ...	1,942,400	1,627,000	1,800	2,000	None ...	1,942,400	1892-93 to 1898-99.	500	From the middle of April to middle of May.	The rainfall was generally favourable. The crop is fair at present. Sowings were early and are practically completed. Owing to unfavourable weather for the past two years and to the fall in the price of jute, the cultivation is decreasing. Very little if any jute is now grown for the outside market, and most of the crop sown this year is indigenous.
Bhagalpur	Bhagalpur ...	2,704,640	2,073,300	6,700	6,700	Little ...	1,229,440	1902 to 1904.	151	Last week of May.	The rainfall was favourable. The condition of the crop is good at present. Sowings were early. They are still going on. The crop of this year is expected to be better than that of last year.
	Purnea ..	3,196,153	1,694,400	212,500	175,000	Very little	2,506,346	1901-02 and 1904-05.	98,903	Second week of April.	The rainfall was favourable. The present condition of the crop is good, but the crop on low lands has been partially damaged by heavy rain. Sowings were normal and were completed in May. The outturn of the crop is expected to be better than that of last year. The area under this crop, both in the Sadar and Kishenganj subdivisions, has decreased owing to the scarcity prevailing for the last three years, for which reason the cultivators are sowing paddy on jute lands. The heavy fall in the price of jute last year and year before last has discouraged the cultivators, who think that jute will be cheaper this year than last year.
	Darjeeling ...	744,956	164,500	3,100	3,100	Very little	200,519	1897-98 and 1901-02.	2,339	Middle of April.	The rainfall was unfavourable. The present condition of the crop is unfavourable owing to excessive rain. Sowings were normal and have been completed. The crop of this year is expected to be a little less than that of last year.

Sonthal Parganas.	3,500,800	1,645,300	1,200	600	Very little	3,272,009	1889 to 1903-04.	1,245	20th April	The rainfall was not favourable. The condition of the crop is fair. Sowings have not been completed in the Rajmahal subdivision. The crop of this year is expected to be better than that of last year. The decrease in the area sown this year at the Rajmahal subdivision is due to want of rainfall in April and May. It is reported that the cultivation of the crop is being given up in the Rajmahal subdivision owing to the low prices which prevailed last year.
Cuttack ...	2 338,560	1,223,500	14,200	9,300	Nil ...	2,088,437	1888-95 to 1905-07.	658	First week of May.	The rainfall was not favourable. The present condition of the crop is fair. Sowings were normal this year. They are still going on in the district. It cannot be said at present whether the crop will be better or worse than that of last year, as in some places sowings have not been completed and in other places the plants are yet in a very early stage of growth. The decrease in the area sown is mainly due to the low price at which jute was sold last year, and partly to the fact that the sowing has not yet been completed.
Balasore ...	1,334,368	932,200	3,600	3,900	Little ...	1,095,778	1891-92 to 1894-95.	138	First week of May.	The rainfall was favourable. The present condition of the crop is good. Sowings were normal and have been completed. The crop of this year is expected to be better than that of last year. There has been an increase in the area sown owing to the favourable weather at the time of sowing.
Total Bengal ...	35,330,099	2[illegible],058,100	548,700	512,800
Add for Cooch Bihar.	836,480	527,900	22,000	20,000	Much ...	843,439	1872 and 1887-1892.	Not ascertained.	Generally in the middle of April.	The rainfall was unfavourable. The condition of the crop is rather poor. Sowings were late. They have been completed. The crop of this year is worse than that of last year. The decrease in the area sown this year is due to the increase in the area under early rice owing to the rise in the prices of food-grains to unfavourable rainfall, and to the existence of a large stock from the crop of 1908.

† The report is for the week ending the 10th July 1909.

GENERAL SUMMARY.—The rainfall during the week was general over the Province: very heavy in parts of Cuttack, Puri and Darjeeling, moderate in Midnapore, Khulna, Balasore, Angul, Sambalpur, Hazaribagh, Ranchi and Palamau and light elsewhere. Transplantation of winter rice is in progress, but more rain is wanted for transplantation in some districts of the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions as well as in Saran, Bhagalpur, Purnea, the Sonthal Parganas and Manbhum. The cessation of rain has been beneficial for the autumn crops in Muzaffarpur and Darbhanga. Jute, sugarcane and other standing crops are doing well. Insects have done some injury to jute in parts of Nadia and some damage has been done to autumn paddy by floods in Shahabad. The price of common rice has risen in Nadia, Muzaffarpur, Puri, Hazaribagh, Ranchi and Manbhum, and has fallen in Jessore, Saran and Champaran. Rinderpest is reported from Sambalpur and cattle-disease prevails in parts of Murshidabad. Cattle-disease is reported also from Burdwan, Nadia, Jessore, Patna, Gaya, Saran, Champaran, Muzaffarpur, Bhagalpur, Purnea, Angul, Palamau and Manbhum. The fodder and water-supply is sufficient throughout the Province. In Darbhanga 993 persons attended famine relief works, but the works are now being closed. Gratuitous relief was given to 28,161 persons in Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga and Palamau.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. The rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

o, overcast; d, drizzling rain; p, passing temporary showers; t, thunder.

No. 2840.—The 26th July 1909.—The following Resolution of the Government of India, Department of Commerce and Industry, is republished for general information.

J. G. CUMMING,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 4941—4988-102, dated Simla, the 14th July 1909.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Department of Commerce and Industry.

In their Resolution No. 1243—1252, dated the 19th February 1906, the Government of India appointed a Committee to enquire into the procedure prescribed for the purchase of stores for the use of Government Departments in India. The Committee were directed to ascertain, and to report on, the defects in the practice now adopted, more especially with reference to the question of facilitating purchases and of affording greater encouragement to local industries, and they were instructed to formulate a set of rules with the object of effecting improvement in the existing system. Certain definite questions were also referred to them for specific enquiry. The Committee visited the important manufacturing centres and obtained the views of representative Indian firms, and they presented their report in July 1906. A large amount of useful information was brought together in their report, and the detailed treatment of the subject enabled the Government of India to arrive at conclusions of a definite character. It has been decided that the Committee's Report should not be published. But a summary of their conclusions is given in the following paragraphs.

2. The procedure hitherto adopted in the large consuming Departments conforms to standing order No. 85, dated the 12th July 1904 (Appendix 30 to Volume III of Public Works Department Code), which contains the executive instructions prescribed for the practical guidance of officers of the Public Works Department and of State Railways, and which, in substance, is reproduced in paragraphs 13 and 13A of Army Regulations, India, Volume III. This procedure is, in the Committee's opinion, defective in certain respects. Dealing first with the case of articles of local origin and manufacture, the Committee have pointed out that there is no indication in these instructions of the declared policy of Government in favour of the purchase of such articles; that the rules applicable to such purchases are cast in a permissive form and do not require that preference should be given to locally produced stores; that practical difficulties are experienced in giving effect to the rules which require a comparison to be made in respect of price and quality between the locally manufactured article and that obtained from England; and that a further difficulty is felt in regard to the interpretation which should be placed on the condition that an article manufactured in India from imported materials must not have been imported into India in a " finished or partly finished state." The result of these defects has been that in practice the policy of the Government has not been carried into complete effect: and the Committee in reviewing the indents of the more important of the consuming Departments found that orders to the value of £467,319 were sent home in the year 1904-05 for articles which could probably have been obtained of local manufacture. The resources of Indian manufacturers as a whole are, in the Committee's opinion, not being taxed to the full: in the case of engineering trades in particular, the larger firms at Calcutta and Bombay are more dependent on orders from local bodies, railways other than State, and general private enterprise than on Government support. The Committee satisfied themselves that Indian manufacturers are both able and willing to undertake a much larger volume of work than at present is entrusted to them by Government Departments: and they quoted as evidence the ready enterprise with which Calcutta Engineering firms have adapted their shops to meet the orders placed in India for rolling stock.

3. As regards the procedure which regulates the supply of European stores, the Committee found on the evidence before them that, as a consequence of the difficulty of framing accurate forecasts, the indent system is not invariably productive of economy, that the general tendency is towards over-estimating, and that this tendency is aggravated by the discouragement of supplementary indents and by the criticisms to which an officer is exposed in attempting to correct an under-estimate by local purchases. Specific instances were also quoted by the Committee in which direct financial loss had resulted from delay and from defective methods in the supply of articles obtained on indent. On the other hand, the enquiries which the Committee made into the quality and price of imported stores purchased locally by Government Departments from Indian firms, satisfied them that, in spite of the necessarily scattered and spasmodic character of such purchases, Indian firms had, on the whole, been able to supply a sufficiently good article at a price which over a number of cases compared not unfavourably with that paid by the India Office.

4. To meet the defects disclosed by their examination of the present system, the Committee formulated certain proposals, the most important of which may be briefly summarised as follows. They were of opinion that the rules prescribed for the guidance of officers of the consuming Departments should contain a clear and unmistakable indication of the desire of Government that, where articles of European and articles of Indian manufacture do not differ materially in respect of quality and price, preference should be given to the latter. They also suggested a modification of the terms of the present rules applicable to the purchase of articles made up in India from imported materials. To meet the difficulties experienced in comparing prices, the Committee proposed as a means of testing rates offered by English and Indian firms, that simultaneous tenders for deliverry in India should be invited in England and in India in the case of standardised articles of which specifications are available at the India Office and in India. In the case of articles not so standardised, they proposed that a comparison should be made with the cost, as shown in Rate Lists, of the imported article delivered in India. They suggested that the form and scope of the existing Rate Lists, which only include stores procured from England for the use of State Railways, should be amplified and extended to cover the transactions of all consuming Departments; that the proposed lists should be issued with promptitude every quarter, and that their compilation should be entrusted to a special agency; that full and detailed information should be given therein as to the freight, insurance and landing charges paid on each article procured through the Store Department, and that account should be taken in determining home prices, of charges representing the incidence of customs duty and of the cost of maintenance of the Store Department. Finally, in cases where the article required is not included in the current quarterly Rate Lists, or in those of the three preceding quarters, they proposed that the officer authorising the purchase should satisfy himself to the best of his ability that the price of the locally manufactured article is not unfavourable.

5. As regards the purchase in India of articles of European manufacture, the Committee suggested considerable modifications of the present procedure in the direction of facilitating the purchase of such articles. In particular the Committee were strongly of opinion that the rules should permit of the supply by large contractors of English stores required in the structure of works let out on contract. A draft set of rules to give effect to their proposals was submitted with the Committee's Report.

6. On the minor points referred to them for enquiry, while the Committee agreed, and, as already stated, included among their recommendations a proposal, that officers should be required in certain cases to give preference to locally manufactured articles, they did not advocate the introduction of any special measure to enforce the exclusion from indents of demands for articles which can be obtained of local manufacture. They considered the organization of a special inspecting staff to be necessary; they made proposals to secure the dissemination among all Departments of information regarding the resources of Indian firms and manufacturers, and they deprecated the creation of Store depôts, except on a very limited scale for the stocking of inconsiderable supplies of standard stores intended for immediate and local use.

7. These recommendations received the careful consideration of the Government of India and have formed the subject of correspondence with the Secretary of State. As regards the adoption of special measures to enforce compliance with the rules prescribing the purchase of locally manufactured articles, the Government of India decided that a check should be applied in regard to indents, with a view to securing that no article should be indented for from the Store Department when a similar indigenous article could be obtained of a satisfactory quality and at reasonable price. They directed that the Director-General of Commercial Intelligence should undertake the compilation of quarterly Rate Lists on the lines proposed, and that that officer should also be entrusted with the duty of placing the consuming Departments in possession of information as to the resources of Indian manufacturers and as to the possibility of obtaining from them an indigenous article in substitution for an imported article.

8. The Secretary of State agrees that the existing rules and procedure regarding the purchase of stores may with advantage be modified, so as to give greater encouragement to the purchase in India of articles, which are either produced or manufactured locally. As regards imported articles he also agrees that an addition should be made to the rules so as to authorize the local purchase of such articles when their value is inconsiderable. Subject to certain conditions, he has also accepted the proposal that in the case of important construction works let out to Indian firms of approved standing, the supply of English stores required for the construction may be included in the contract. The rules as finally settled by him are appended to this Resolution.

9. At the same time the Secretary of State desires that it should be made clear that these rules are adopted purely as an experimental measure, and that they will be revised should it be found that they result in a deterioration of quality or an increase in the cost of stores supplied to Government. In order to secure additional safeguards, the Secretary of State desires to be furnished with periodical reports showing whether articles purchased in India as being of equal quality with articles procurable in England at the same price are found by experience to be so. As the comparison of prices required by the rules will be attended with some difficulty, and in order to provide additional supervision, he has also decided that lists of purchases in India of articles not included in the Rate Lists are to be sent to him at the end of each financial year, in order that he may have the opportunity of noticing any cases in which it might appear that excessive prices have been paid.

10. The Secretary of State has also sanctioned the proposal of the Committee as to the establishment of an inspecting staff for the purpose of testing and passing supplies purchased in India. Details of a scheme to give effect to this decision are now being worked out for submission to the Secretary of State.

11. The Governor-General in Council is now pleased to direct that the rules appended to this Resolution shall be observed in supersession of all existing orders regarding the purchase of stores required for the use of Government Departments. He desires to impress on all concerned that the policy of Government is to encourage the purchase of articles locally manufactured or produced, and the first two of the rules now drawn up accordingly prescribe that preference shall be given to such articles when the quality is satisfactory and the price not unfavourable. To secure that full effect shall be given to this policy, the Government of India direct that indents should be carefully scrutinised by the sanctioning authority, with a view to judging whether articles are not being indented for from Europe which could equally, economically and satisfactorily be obtained from local manufacturers. Indenting officers should also be required to explain in their indents their reasons for including in the demand on the India Office any article which is available of Indian manufacture. Finally, the Government of India desire that copies of all indents should be submitted to them after despatch in order that the operation and effect of these orders may be watched, and a check applied to secure the exclusion from indents of requisitions for articles which Indian manufacturers can supply. Separate orders will issue subsequently in respect of the date on which indents should be submitted to the Government for this purpose.

12. Substantial modifications have been introduced in the rules applicable to the local purchases of European stores. Under Rule 3 (a) officers will now be permitted to purchase without restriction English stores of small value which are in India at the time of order, within the money limits prescribed by Rule 13. Under Rule 5 purchases of English stores may also be made within the limits prescribed by Rule 13, not only in cases where the demand is so urgent that a supply by indent would cause delay and inconvenience, but also in cases where economy can be effected by the greater promptitude afforded by purchase in India. Rule 3 (b) lays down the conditions to which is subject the concession referred to in paragraph 8 above, as to the supply of English stores required in the structure of important construction works. The Government of India will await from Local Governments, to whom all applications should be made in the first instance, proposals as to the firms which should be admitted to this concession.

13. The compilation of Rate Lists is, as has already been stated, now being undertaken by the Director-General of Commercial Intelligence, and it is anticipated that those lists, in their revised and amplified form, will shortly be ready for issue. The Director-General of Commercial Intelligence will, when the first issue of these Rate Lists has been compiled, ascertain from Local Governments and Administrations and from each Department the number of copies of these lists required, and will arrange for the supply of these as well as of copies of subsequent issues. In accordance with the wishes of the Secretary of State, as explained in paragraph 9 above, lists showing the prices at which purchases were made of articles not included in these Rate Lists during the preceding financial year, should be submitted to the Government of India by the 31st August in each year, for transmission to the India Office. Separate orders will issue subsequently after experience has been gained of the working of the new rules, in regard to the submission of reports as to the quality of articles purchased in India.

14. The rules appended to this Resolution do not apply to the transactions of Port Trusts, Municipalities, Cantonments and other Local Funds not included in the general accounts and estimates of the Empire, unless they should at any time be expending Government revenues on behalf of Government, or unless the Government should in any special case, in which it may advance to them funds for particular works, thinks proper to make a condition to this effect. The arrangements for the supply of stores to Port Trusts and other similar bodies will always be subject to any control that may be provided by the local law.

ORDER.—Ordered, that this Resolution be communicated to all Departments of the Government of India, to all Local Governments and administrations, to all Accountants-General and Comptrollers (including the Comptroller and Auditor-General), to all Heads of Departments subordinate to this Department, to the Examiner of the Telegraph Accounts and to the Private and Military Secretaries to His Excellency the Viceroy.

Ordered, also, that the Resolution be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

RULES FOR THE SUPPLY OF ARTICLES FOR THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

Subject to the provisions of the rules specified below, and to any instructions regarding specific articles which have been, or may be, issued by the Government of India from time to time (e.g, those relating to the supply of stationery), the following are the rules relating to the supply of articles required for the public service:—

RULE 1.—Articles manufactured in India from Indian materials.

All articles which are produced in India in the form of raw material, or are manufactured in India from materials produced in India, should, by preference, be purchased locally, provided that the quality is sufficiently good for the purpose and the price not unfavourable.

RULE 2.—Articles manufactured in India from imported materials.

All articles manufactured in India from imported materials should, by preference, be purchased in India, subject, however, to the following conditions:—

(a) That a substantial part of the process of manufacture of the articles purchased has been performed in India.

(b) That the price is as low as that at which articles of similar quality can be obtained through the India Office.

(c) That the materials employed are subjected to such inspection and tests as may be prescribed by the Government of India.

RULE 3.—Articles which are not manufactured in India.

Articles which are not manufactured in India should be obtained by indent upon the Store Department of the India Office, except in the following cases:—

(a) When the articles are already in India at the time of order and the cost of the supply does not exceed limits prescribed in Rule 13.

(b) In the case of important construction works let out on contract, articles not manufactured in India required for the construction of such works may be supplied by the contracting firm, subject to the following conditions:—

(i) That the firm is approved by the Government of India and is included in the list of firms so approved.

(ii) That the materials are subject to the current specifications and tests prescribed by the Government of India.

RULE 4.—Particular articles which may be purchased in India.

The following articles, whether manufactured or produced in India or not, may be purchased in India:—

(a) Those of a perishable nature.
(b) Explosives.
(c) Block tin.
(d) Wines and Spirits and English-bottled beer for Army Hospitals in India.
(e) Kerosine oil.
(f) Plant and materials for electric installations.
(g) Australian timber.
(h) Australian copper.
(i) Italian marble.
(j) Such other classes of articles as may from time to time be prescribed by the Government of India with the approval of the Secretary of State in Council.

RULE 5.—Special purchases in India.

When serious inconvenience to the public service would be caused by waiting to obtain an article from England, or when, owing to the greater promptitude of supply, an economy can be effected by purchasing in India articles which under the foregoing rules should be obtained through the Store Department, the purchase may be made in India, subject to Rule 13; but in such cases, if the value of the articles exceed Rs. 50, the sanctioning officer should place on record the reasons which make the local purchase desirable. This record shall be available for the inspection of the Examiner of Accounts or the supervising officer when required.

RULE 6.—Inter-departmental purchases.

Nothing in these rules is to be deemed to prohibit the purchase of stores of European manufacture by one Department or Railway from another.

RULE 7.—Method of obtaining Stores not purchased in India.

All articles which under the foregoing rules are not to be bought in India should be obtained by indent on the Store Department of the India Office, except any which the Secretary of State may have specially authorised the Government of India or its officers to purchase direct outside India. Such purchase is at present permissible in the case of the following articles:—

(i) Seeds.

(ii) Cinchona bark.

(iii) Articles for experimental or research purposes required by officers approved by the Government of India from time to time. A list of the officers thus approved is given in Appendix A.

(iv) Excise instruments and apparatus required by Provincial Excise Departments for experimental or research purposes.

(v) China, glass, cutlery, plate and crockery for the residences of Heads of Provinces.

(vi) Australian timber.

NOTE.—Payments for stores purchased under this rule should be made direct to the suppliers by the purchasing officers.

RULE 8.—Forecast of Requirements.

Every effort should be made to foresee requirements so that there may be ample time to send forward indents for such articles as should under the rules be obtained from the India Office. Persistent failure of any officer to make such efforts should be brought to notice by the Local Government or other authority, which may, at its discretion, cancel or reduce the powers of sanction entrusted to the officer at fault.

RULE 9.—Time required to obtain Stores from England.

It may be assumed that the time required from the transmission of an indent upon the Secretary of State to the receipt of the stores is :—

Urgent telegraphic indents, not less than three months.

Ordinary indents, six to ten months, according to the article demanded.

For special stores, e.g., large girders, rolling-stock, etc., up to one year in ordinary times.

RULE 10.—Method of comparing Prices.

In all cases in which the selection of source of supply depends upon comparison of prices, the procedure to be adopted for such a comparison is as follows :—

(i) A reference should be made to Home prices as shown in the Rate Lists, and freight should be added at the latest rates paid by the India Office, together with 1*s*. 3*d*. per 100*l*. for insurance, and 3*d*. per ton for freight brokerage.

(ii) In cases of important contracts, the prices ruling in the English market should be ascertained by a telegraphic reference to the Director-General of Stores.

(iii) In cases where the necessary information as to Home prices is not available from the Rate Lists, the purchase in India shall be subject to the condition that the price is not unfavourable.

(iv) In order to arrive at the market value at an Indian port of an article imported from England, the following charges shall be included:—

(a) Landing, wharfage, and port charges as shewn in the Rate Lists.

(b) Customs duty, as shown in the Tariff to be applicable to the article in question, to be calculated on its cost plus the additional charges mentioned in the earlier part of this rule.

(v) The cost of carriage to site from port or place of manufacture, as the case may be, shall be taken into account.

RULE 11.—Tests.

Any articles purchased in India which should be tested are liable to the specifications laid down from time to time by competent authority, with the approval of the Secretary of State in Council, and should be required to pass the tests prescribed for such articles.

RULE 12.—Firms from which iron and steel may be bought in India.

Important iron and steel work, if purchased in India, should only be obtained from firms approved by the Local Government or Administration and entered in a Schedule as corrected from time to time by the Government of India. A list of approved firms is given in Appendix B.

RULE 13.—Financial limits on powers of officers to make purchases in India.

In the case of purchases made under Rules 1, 2 and 4, an officer's powers of purchase extend to the ordinary limits to which he is empowered to enter into contracts. But in the case of purchases made in India under Rules 3 (a) and 5, the limits for expenditure on any one article or any number of similar articles purchased at one time are as follows:—

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE BENGAL SMOKE-NUISANCES COMMISSION FOR THE YEAR 1908-09.

No. 1796Marine.

Government of Bengal.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

Dated Calcutta, the 27th July 1909.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

Letter No. 65, dated the 9th July 1909, from the Secretary to the Bengal Smoke-nuisances Commission.

Read also—

The Annual Report of the Bengal Smoke-nuisances Commission for the year 1908-09.

The Commission held 11 meetings during the year. The Chief Inspector and the Assistant Inspector of Smoke-nuisances made 3,657 observations of smoke emission from chimneys, and 2,210 inspections of furnaces. In 205 cases the appliances for stoking were tested. Mechanical stokers and smoke appliances were fitted in seven furnaces. It is satisfactory to note that there has been a reduction of the average emission of dense black smoke, and it is now less than one-sixth of what it was in April 1906. Relief could, in many cases, be given by causing the chimneys to be raised, and 51 chimneys have been raised as a result of statutory warnings, while nine have been raised voluntarily. Eighteen prosecutions were undertaken by the Commission for infringement of the provisions of the Act, and convictions were obtained in each case.

2. The use of motors driven by electricity, oil, or gas, would afford a permanent remedy for the smoke-nuisance, and the Lieutenant-Governor notes with satisfaction that 127 electro-motors, two oil-motors and one suction-gas motor were installed during the year, and that other electro-motor installations are in progress.

3. The Commission brought to notice that the smoke emitted by the making of coke without ovens or special appliances has been a great nuisance, and a rule has recently been made by Government for the prevention of this nuisance.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to notice the increased interest and co-operation shown by the owners of factories in the prevention of the smoke-nuisance during the year.

5. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to the President and members of the Commission, and particularly to the non-official members, for their administration of the Act during the year.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to the Government of India, Department of Commerce and Industry; the President, Smoke-nuisances Commission; the Commissioners, Presidency and Burdwan Divisions; the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta; the Secretary, Bengal Chamber of Commerce; the Secretary, Calcutta Trades Association, and the Secretary, Bengal National Chamber of Commerce.

Ordered, also, that the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

T. BUTLER,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. The rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

o, overcast; g, dark gloomy; d, drizzling rain; p, passing temporary showers; t, thunder.

(2) "Master," when used with reference to a vessel, means any person (except a pilot or harbour master) having for the time being charge or control of the vessel;

(3) "Port Officer" includes any person acting under the authority of the Lieutenant-Governor in charge of port discipline;

(4) "Sleeping sickness" includes the stage of the disease known as trypanosomiasis.

2. The master of every vessel arriving at the Pilot Station at the Sandheads from a port beyond India shall

(a) if the vessel has on board any person suffering or suspected to be suffering from sleeping sickness, or

(b) if any case or suspected case of sleeping sickness has occurred, or if any person has died or is suspected to have died from sleeping sickness on board within the twelve days immediately preceding the arrival of the vessel, report every such case or death to the pilot at the earliest opportunity, and shall also comply, on arrival at the quarantine mooring at Garden Reach, with such regulations as may be made by the Lieutenant-Governor, in regard to—

General Letter No. 3.

HIGH COU
ENGLISH DE (Civil.)

To

THE DISTRICT JUDGE OF

Dated Calcutta, the 19th April 1909.

SIR,

THE attention of the Court has been directed to the numerous complaints which have been received of the unsatisfactory manner in which commissions issued by Civil Courts requiring a knowledge of surveying, have been executed and to the excessive expense to which the parties have been put by the employment of pleaders as Commissioners for local investigations. These complaints appear to the Court to be well founded in many instances. I am directed to communicate the following observations of the Chief Justice and Judges in regard to the execution of commissions in which a knowledge of surveying is required and as to the fees which may reasonably be fixed for work of this kind.

2. When a commission has to be executed in which some knowledge of surveying is required, such as cases in which the settlement of boundaries of areas of small extent in easy and level country, has to be determined, it should ordinarily be issued to a pleader who holds a certificate of proficiency in surveying from the Examination Board constituted for this purpose.

3. Commissions of the above description should also be issued to salaried Amins in districts in which they still exist, to whom commissions in simple cases in which a knowledge of surveying is not needed, may be also issued if their time is not otherwise fully occupied. If no salaried Amins exist, commissions of the last mentioned description may be issued to such persons as the District Judge may appoint, subject to any rules made by the Local Governments under the provisions of Order XXVI, Rule 9, of the Code of Civil Procedure.

4. When a commission has to be executed which requires the survey of a large area of many miles, and in which the use of the Theodolite is essential, it should be issued to a professional surveyor of a high degree of efficiency, such as an officer of the Imperial Survey Department, or a person with like qualifications.

5. In cases in which the tracing of boundaries in undulating or hilly country is necessary, or in the case of mines, or in irrigation cases, in which the use of the level is necessary or in cases involving the measurement and valuation of house property, or in other intricate cases, the commission should be issued to a thoroughly qualified and experienced surveyor, or other person with special expert knowledge of the duties he will be required to perform in connection with the execution of the commission.

6. As regards the scale of payments for the execution of the commissions referred to above, I am to suggest that, with the object of, if possible, promoting uniformity of practices, and of preventing the imposition of excessive charges, the fees for the employment of a pleader as a Commissioner in the circumstances stated in paragraph 2 of this letter, should, after excluding the expenses referred to in Rule 13, Chapter V, page 134 of the General Rules and Circular Orders, Civil, be subject to a maximum of Rs. 16 per diem in the Courts of District Judges and of Subordinate Judges, and of Rs. 8 per diem in the Courts of Munsifs, according to the nature of the work to be performed. The Court issuing the commission should, with the consent of the person appointed as Commissioner in each case, fix a fee for the whole commission based on the above daily standard of fees, and in fixing such fee, it shall make it a condition with the Commissioner that a reasonable number of hours' work should be devoted each day by him to the execution of the commission, and that the failure on his part of this condition will entail a reduction of his fees.

7. In the case of the persons, other than salaried Amins, referred to in paragraph 3 of this letter, I am to suggest that the payment to the Commissioner should be at the rate of Rs 3 per diem in addition to a further sum for necessary expenses under Rule 13 quoted in the preceding paragraph, subject to the condition referred to in that paragraph.

8. The fees for the employment of professional surveyors and others, referred to in paragraphs 4 and 5 above, should be regulated, when possible, by the rules framed by Government regarding the employment of such officers in Government service. The following rates which the Court are advised are reasonable charges, may be of assistance in determining the fees to be fixed for the execution of commissions by professional agency:—

Commissioner's possessing the qualifications of—

(1) Executive Engineers, or Assistant Engineers	... Rs.	30	a day.
(2) Sub-Engineers	... „	10 to Rs. 15	„
(3) Overseers (Graduate)	... „	5	„
(4) Overseers (apprentice)	... „	2 to Rs. 4	„

In this connection a statement of the daily outturn of work required by the Survey Department from professional agency will afford some guide to the Subordinate Courts in determining the work involved in a particular commission:—

(1) Boundary survey	Half a square mile.
(2) Plane table survey of fields	15 acres.
(3) Extraction of areas	250 plots.
(4) Tracing and numbering	750 „
(5) Traverse line	100 chains.

9. I am to add that, though the above rates are suggested as reasonable rates, they are not intended to fetter the discretion of the Judges of the Lower Courts. vested in them under Order XXVI, Rule 15, of the Code of Civil Procedure, especially in cases where superior expert knowledge is required and is available.

10. The Court's General letter No. 1, dated the 15th February 1909, is hereby cancelled.

I have the honour to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient Servant,

A. W. WATSON,

Offg. Registrar.
